

Union Woman Found Innocent

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Mary McConnell, 31, of Allentown, has been found innocent of embezzling $7,065 in union funds, but guilty on three counts of false entry.

James Robert, 51, of East Stroudsburg, was acquitted earlier this week on charges of complicity in the alleged embezzlements.

The government had charged Miss McConnell with the crimes during October, 1959, to November, 1961. Both the government and the defense closed their cases Wednesday before Judge A. Leon Higginbotham Jr., in U.S. District Court.

Warren Board Completes Study

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Warren Commission investigating the assassination of President John F. Kennedy concluded Thursday its scheduled taking of testimony after hearing scores of witnesses across a seven-month period.

Secret Service chief James J. Rowley was the final witness and spent 3½ hours before the group headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren.

Gen. Harkins Reports Progress

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Gen. Paul D. Harkins, the retiring U.S. commander in South Viet Nam, said Thursday that despite setbacks suffered in the Buddhist crisis of last year, the war against the Communist Viet Cong is making progress.

With implementation of the program for pacification of the provinces "we are gradually winning back control," he told newsmen at a farewell news conference. Gen. William C. Westmoreland will take over the U.S. command on Saturday, when Harkins will leave for Washington and retirement.

Walker's Case Before Jury

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker's $2-million libel suit against The Associated Press went to a jury of four women and eight men late Thursday.

The panel met briefly to elect a foreman and then was dismissed for the night at 4:55 p.m. The jurors will resume at 9 a.m. Friday.

In closing arguments, Walker's lawyers said that AP stories during the Sept. 30, 1962 segregation riot at the University of Mississippi "made him appear absolutely a lunatic."

LBJ Initiates US-Japan Phone

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson talked by telephone Thursday night with Prime Minister Ito of Japan formally inaugurating the first telephone cable between the United States and Japan.

The historic call between the White House and Tokyo spanned 10,000 miles with the clarity of a call across town.

The new cable is one of the longest ever laid, stretching 5,300 miles from Oahu, Hawaii, to Japan via Midway, Wake and Guam. The cable project cost $80 million. Prior to the cable, telephone communication with Japan was by radio circuits.

4 New PP&L Coal Cars Derail

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP)—The first running of a coal unit train—a new concept in railroading—met more trouble Thursday as four of its 74 cars derailed near Altoona.

No one was injured in the derailment of the same train that was delayed Wednesday by a surface explosion at the Tunnelton Mining Co.'s new Merion Mine near Saltsburg.

The 74 cars were carrying coal to the Pennsylvania Power and Light Co. plant outside of Harrisburg, the company participating in the new shuttle run with the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Stock Market Stumbles Ahead

NEW YORK (AP)—A tired stock market stumbled into a irregular Thursday, having advanced in six of the previous seven sessions. Trading moderated.

Even though more stocks declined than advanced, the Dow Jones industrial average kept a slight gain of .83 at 823.98.

Volume settled back to 4.76 million shares from 5.29 million Wednesday.

Soviet Offers Bonfire Talks

GENEVA (AP)—The Soviet Union offered Thursday to negotiate a compromise agreement for a "bonfire" of nuclear weapons.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin told chief U.S. disarmament negotiator William C. Foster the Kremlin is prepared to make a new start on the bonfire negotiations, which have been deadlocked for three months.

Addressing the 17-nation disarmament conference, Zorin promised to maintain a flexible position in further discussions. American officials were delighted by the Soviet statement, which confirmed their earlier prediction that the bonfire proposal was the only area of the disarmament talks where agreement seemed possible in this session.

The conference is expected to recess in September until after British and American elections and the fall U.N. General Assembly session.

An agreement to destroy bomber planes would be the first actual arms cut ever negotiated, in 18 years of intermittent East-West disarmament talks in London, New York and Geneva.

Its greatest significance would be that both superpowers would keep their nuclear bombers out of the hands of other countries as the planes gradually are replaced by long-range ballistic missiles.

The American and Soviet positions have been frozen since the Soviets last March rejected a U.S. proposal to destroy 480 American B-47s and 480 Soviet TU-16s over a two-year period.

New Bathing Suits Awful, Unlawful?

NEW YORK (AP)—It's all according to the viewpoint whether the nudest thing in women's swimwear fashion—that topsless wonder—is quite an eye-fel, just awful, or unlawful.

Opinions differed sharply this week as Rudi Gernreich's daring design for feminine sunwear across the country after a bracing introduction here a few days earlier.

Orders Cancelled

Some buyers stocked it to keep up with the trend toward over-all sunbathing, an Associated Press survey showed. Others snubbed it because the model did not suit the moral mood of their clientele, or the town.

Lord & Taylor's in New York canceled an order because the halved bikini is "not in taste conforming to standards of the store."

"That's indecent exposure. Why, you'd go to jail," exclaimed a spokesman for F. J. Lenes in Boston.

"They'll never sell in Seattle," said a spokesman for Bon Marche in that city.

"I can't see this fashion becoming popular in Michigan for several years — if ever," declared Robert Emmet of Jacobson Shops, Detroit.

"It isn't in keeping with our store image," contended a Jordan Marsh spokesman in Florida.

In many cases the customer who finds a seller will be handled surreptitiously, as though she were buying bootleg booze.

Not For Display

"We will have them for people who ask, but we have absolutely no plans to display them," said Katherine Robinson of B. Altman's in New York.

Most buyers not buying the not-quite-a-bikini, such as one at Carson Pirrie & Scott in Chicago, sniffed at it as "unimportant fashion-wise — a gimmick."

A San Francisco buyer has already taken the plunge in one. And actress Pamela Tiffin said she'd go along with the "prevailing mood," like at spots on the Riviera.

Blonde Parades In Topless Suit

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—A topless bathing suit caused little stir on the Santa Monica beach Thursday although it was worn by a well-formed, 23-year-old blonde dancer.

The crowd was sparse and the air cool.

Then, too, Lucki Winn stayed only until news photographers, summoned by lifeguards, could snap her picture.

Miss Winn wore a pink suit with thin, suspender-like straps. As she donned a beach coat prior to her departure, she mentioned that she was opening Thursday night at a Sunset Strip nightclub.

Police made no arrest because no one complained.

Debt Limit Increased $9 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House passed Thursday, 203-182, a bill to set the national debt limit at $724 billion through June 30, 1964. This is a $9-billion increase over the present limit.

The roll-call vote sending the bill to the Senate came after three hours' debate on government spending and defeat of a Republican motion to send the legislation back to the Ways and Means Committee.

Republicans voted solidly—154—against the measure. They were joined by 28 Democrats, mostly Southerners.

Ways and Means chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., struck at what he called myths—"that a low ceiling keeps the debt down" and that "we can get forgiveness from the American people for what we have done or failed to do all year on spending by casting a 'no' vote on this one occasion."

When asked how they decided to donate the money to the Kennedy library, Danny Henning said, "We all talked it over and then we decided." Eddie McGuire added that they had read in the paper that children all over the world are donating to the fund, and "we wanted to do our part."

Coroner-DA Inquest Into Teeter Death Announced

By Jeff Cox
Daily Record Reporter

STROUDSBURG — Monroe County Coroner John C. F. Foecker yesterday announced a joint coroner-district attorney inquest of the death-by-burning of Claude W. Teeter, but set no date.

Monroe County Commissioners also decided yesterday to investigate the death. They will travel to the manor Monday afternoon.

"I hope you gentlemen take steps to see it won't happen again," Mrs. Sherman Teeter, sister-in-law of Teeter said at the commissioners meeting yesterday.

Claude Teeter, 67 and blind, accidentally set himself afire May 30 at Pleasant Valley Manor while smoking a pipe. He died in the General Hospital to see that it won't happen again to any poor unfortunate out there," Mrs. Teeter told the commissioners.

Chairman Stanley Rader then said that it's almost impossible to have constant supervision for everyone at the manor.

Mrs. Howard Coslett, daughter of Mrs. Teeter, said, "We have heard so many reports from other people who have had people in the home. When someone is a problem, instead of trying to help them, they'll sedate them."

"A friend of mine had a relative out there—never sick, just senile—and within a few weeks she was dead. The people there are not treated with kindness—after all they're people, too," Mrs. Coslett said.

Rader Defends Treatment

Kids Raise $25 For JFK Memorial

STROUDSBURG — Carnival came to a vacant lot on Spruce St. last night as dozens of neighborhood kids and their "cooperating" parents helped raise $25.41 for the Kennedy Memorial Library Fund at Harvard University.

Five youthful organizers set the ball rolling Monday by selling homemade cupcakes. They made $2.80 and decided to keep going.

Eddie and Tommy McGuire, 11 and 7 respectively; Danny Henning, 11; Anthony Chaffier, 9; and Howard Saunders, also 9, then peeled what seemed like tons of potatoes for french fries to be sold as refreshments at an auction Wednesday night.

The auction goods were white elephants the kids collected around the neighborhood. This event brought in a total of $5.30.

By now the entire "Spruce Street bunch" was enthused, so they decided to hold a "real" carnival. Their money was invested in prizes and the inevitable hot dogs and sauerkraut. Neighborhood parents, not to be outdone, donated sodas and watermelons.

Annual Vacation Guide

STROUDSBURG — The Daily Record today includes a 52-page copy of the Vacation Guide to the Pocono Mountains.

This annual publication includes feature stories about vacations in the area. Some of the stories included in the issue cover area highways, sightseeing, area state parks and what they offer, trout streams in the area, and descriptions of major Pocono Mountain resorts.

The guide is circulated in seven states: Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, Connecticut, Ohio, Delaware and Maryland.

For additional copies call the Daily Record business office and ask for the circulation department. They will be happy to mail additional copies to your home or to any address you give.

Chester Leaders Suspend Rally

HARRISBURG (AP)—Chester civil rights leaders suspended a protest demonstration at the state capitol Thursday pending a hearing next week on their charges of state police brutality in that racially troubled city.

Their demonstration, their second here in a month, was called off by Stanley Branche, head of the Chester Committee for Freedom Now, after he conferred with Lt. Gov. Raymond P. Shafer in Gov. Scranton's office.

Later in the evening, Branche was introduced to Scranton himself following the governor's news conference at a downtown hotel. No mention was made of the demonstration or the group's charges, however.

Demonstrators Claim

The demonstrators claim that many Negroes were beaten needlessly by state and local police officers during several nights of demonstrations last April in Chester.

Shafer said he would meet next week — either Wednesday or Thursday — with Branche to discuss in detail a state police investigation into the charges.

Both Shafer and Branche called their meeting "friendly and congenial," but declined to elaborate on what specifically was said.

Branche said Shafer told him he has not seen the state police report and added that until he had, the specifics of the charges could not be settled.

Shafer, who is representing Scranton while the governor is campaigning for the Republican nomination, said the "position of the executive branch of state government (on the charges) will be made known" at his next meeting with Branche.

Rights Bill Foes Concede Defeat

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate talked its way Thursday night toward expected passage Friday of the civil rights bill, with foes of the measure conceding defeat and predicting the House also will accept the compromise package.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., leader of the Southern forces which battled against the bill since March 9, told the Senate that House acceptance of the measure has been arranged and added with a note of sarcasm:

"It will then go to the President to be signed into law with great fanfare, ceremony, pomp and circumstance."

After 29 senators had made their final speeches on the measure during the day, the Senate recessed at 7:51 p.m. EST—earlier than had been expected—until 11 a.m. Friday.

Leaders said they had been unable to persuade as many senators to get their speeches delivered Thursday night as they had hoped and that a survey showed about four hours of speechmaking remained Friday. They estimated that final pas-

Barry To Vote No On Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater disclosed Thursday night that he will vote against the civil rights bill, which is on the eve of apparently certain Senate passage.

This declaration by the Arizona senator, who claims enough delegate votes for first-ballot nomination as the Republican presidential candidate, was greeted by dismay in the moderate wing of the GOP. But it was viewed by Southern Democrats as a boost to his chances in the South.

Goldwater, in a Senate speech, said he is "unalterably opposed to discrimination of any sort" but will vote against the bill because two parts of it "fly in the face of the Constitution." He added that he feels these two sections—the public accommodations and equal employment titles—are a threat to individual freedoms.

Goldwater told the Senate his negative vote will be reluctantly cast "because I had hoped to be able to vote 'yea' on this measure as I have on the civil rights measures which preceded it."

"But I cannot in good conscience to the oath that I took when assuming office cast my vote in the affirmative," Goldwater said.

Goldwater said that except for the sections banning discrimination in places of public accommodation and in employment, he could "wholeheartedly support this bill."

Scranton Says Barry Can't Beat Johnson

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Gov. William W. Scranton said Thursday Sen. Barry Goldwater, his opponent for the Republican presidential nomination, could not defeat President Johnson in November if the Arizona senator votes against the compromise civil rights bill as he has announced. He called on Goldwater in a telegram to repudiate the stand.

The Pennsylvania governor also announced during a news conference that he had won the support of Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of Johns Hopkins University and brother of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Scranton's comments about Goldwater came shortly after the Arizona senator announced on the floor of the Senate that he would vote against the compromise version.

Scranton said the "overwhelming majority of people in America favor the civil rights bill." He called Goldwater's statement unfortunate.

As for Dr. Eisenhower's support, Scranton said he welcomes it "wholeheartedly."

"I am very grateful for this wonderful support and I will use Dr. Eisenhower in the campaign, and, if elected, I will name him an adviser on foreign policy," Dr. Eisenhower was a former special consultant on Latin-American affairs to his brother.

On Civil Rights

On civil rights, Scranton was asked that whether as a matter of practical politics he thought Goldwater could beat Johnson with a negative vote.

Scranton replied: "No, I don't. I think it would be very difficult."

As he has done repeatedly in his week-old campaign, he refused to assess his own delegate strength.

"I don't agree with the Associated Press poll," he said, "I don't consider it to be accurate."

Latest Poll

The latest AP poll shows Goldwater has 361 GOP presidential nominating convention delegates bound to him by state or party convention actions. That's more than half the 677 first-ballot votes credited to Goldwater by an AP survey. The remainder of the votes in Goldwater's column come from delegates who say they favor the Arizona senator. The number needed for the nomination is 655.

However, Scranton said he hopes "to whittle away enough from winning the nomination on the first ballot."

Sincere Feelings

In arriving at his politically arriving decision to vote against the bill, Goldwater said: "I am unalterably opposed to discrimination or segregation on the basis of race, color, or creed, or on any other basis. Not only my words, but more importantly my actions through the years have repeatedly demonstrated the sincerity of my feeling in this regard."

However, Goldwater said that to give genuine effect to the bill's prohibitions will require "the creation of a federal police force of mammoth proportions."

He charged that "it also bids fair to result in the development of an 'informal' psychology in great areas of our national life, with 'neighbors' spying on neighbors, workers spying on workers, businessmen spying on businessmen, where those who would harass their fellow citizens for selfish and narrow purposes will have ample inducement to do so."

Goldwater Sees Gen. Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, leading candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, met Thursday with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower in Gettysburg, Pa.

"We had an hour's discussion for about an hour," the Arizona senator said just after announcing on the Senate floor that he would vote against the civil rights bill.

"I go up there every so often," Goldwater told a reporter. "It just so happened today that he was free and I was free, so I went up."

Goldwater did not elaborate on what the two talked about, other than to term it a "general discussion."

Eisenhower could not be reached immediately for comment.

Manor Defended

KEILERSVILLE — A Monroe County employee at Pleasant Valley Manor in Keilerville yesterday defended the circumstances surrounding the burning of Claude Teeter at the manor May 30.

Ralph VanBuskirk of Saylorsburg an orderly and maintenance worker, said of the incident, "I was there within one-half minute and the nurse was already there doing everything possible. Mr. Teeter was on the way to the hospital about 15 minutes after he was burned."

Blow to Haney

VanBuskirk, former county scaler of weights and measures, said the publicity given to the incident was unwarranted and has been a severe blow to Mrs. Charles Haney, wife of the manor's superintendent.

"Mrs. Haney has given 17 of the best years of her life to this home. She really works hard. All the people here are well cared for and the food is good. Mrs. Haney does a fine job," he said.

Charge 'Unjust'

VanBuskirk thought the coverage given to the incident on the radio and in The Daily Record was "unjust."

"Before people make those kind of accusations they should come out here and investigate. If this was done none of this would have been brought up," he said.

VanBuskirk was referring to statements made by relatives of Teeter critical of the way the burned man was handled at the manor and also the fact the burning was not made public until 17 days later.

State News Roundup

Sec. Bull Attacks Foreign Aid Plan

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—Leland H. Bull, state secretary of agriculture, assailed the federal government Thursday for what he called a foreign aid program that has boomeranged to wreck the U.S. mushroom industry.

Federal officials have given no consideration to the welfare of the taxpayers who must support foreign aid programs, Bull said in remarks prepared for a meeting of mushroom leaders.

"The federal government has poured millions of dollars into Pennsylvania to develop a mushroom industry there," he declared. "Now that the industry has been formed, millions of pounds of imported mushrooms are being dumped on the U.S. markets at ridiculously low prices."

"We in Pennsylvania feel the disastrous effects of this foreign aid program more critically than do many others," Bull added. "because growers in our state have consistently produced more than 60 per cent of our nation's mushroom needs."

He repeated the plea of the State legislature earlier this year to save the mushroom industry by declining domestic industry.

Lawrence, Clark Riff Is Denied

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., reportedly tried but failed to oust former Gov. David L. Lawrence as chairman of the Pennsylvania delegation to the Democratic National Convention, the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette said Wednesday night.

In a copyrighted article, the paper said the move was unsuccessful because it failed to receive support from President Johnson. Spokesmen for Clark and Lawrence denied the report.

The paper said Clark reportedly met with President Johnson last Friday, three days before the Democratic State Committee met in Harrisburg for its reorganizational meeting.

The President, according to the paper, called Lawrence on Saturday. The White House said Clark's reported visit was not listed on the President's schedule and the phone call had not been mentioned in Friday's press briefing.

Sen. Ed. Kennedy Dedicates Plaque

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., youngest brother of the late President Kennedy, will speak at Independence Hall on June 29 when the city dedicates a memorial plaque to the fallen chief.

Mayor James Tate made the announcement Wednesday, noting that the senator will appear in place of his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, who will be in Berlin to take part in another memorial service. The ceremony will be the inaugural event of the city's annual Freedom Week observance.

Eisenhower Gets Honorary Degree

ANNANDALE-ON-HUDSON, N.Y. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower will be awarded an honorary doctor of laws degree by Bard College at commencement exercises here Saturday, the college said Thursday.

The announcement said Eisenhower had made a special effort to come to Bard this year out of respect for Dr. Harry J. Carman, 80-year-old chairman of the board.

Carman, also dean emeritus at Columbia University, was associated with Eisenhower during the latter's years as president of Columbia.

Ingram Denies Morse Charges

HARRISBURG (AP) — John Ingram, secretary of the administration, took issue yesterday with charges by Democratic State Chairman Otis B. Morse that the number of employees on the state payroll has reached an all time high.

Ingram quoted Morse as saying state employment reached 86,858 jobs last month. "I cannot understand where Mr. Morse obtained his figures," Ingram declared. "Actually, employment in agencies under Gov. Scranton's jurisdiction during the last pay period in May totaled only 81,532."

No matter how dry the climate, people who live in mud houses on an oasis do not pray for rain. A rare desert cloudburst can dissolve all the dwellings in the oasis.

Lt. Gov. Shafer Takes Scranton's Bid Calmly

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Lt. Gov. Raymond P. Shafer, the first in the line of succession to the governor's chair, is taking Gov. William W. Scranton's plunge into presidential politics calmly.

"Oh, I've been constantly reminded by many people that possibly I may be thrown into the responsibility of being governor," Shafer said, adding quickly:

Keep Wheels Rolling

"But I've had no particular emotional reaction to it other than to remind myself that if it happens, my first job will be to keep the wheels of government turning the way they have been during the first years of the Scranton Administration."

Shafer, at 47, is a trim, athletic individual with an easy smile, a friendly disposition, and a firm handshake.

Government is his "vocation," he said, and it will continue to be "as long as the people—and I don't mean this to sound trite—will have me."

When government and politics aren't occupying his time, he says, his "greatest relaxation is being home with the family."

He married the former Jane Harris Davies of Pittsburgh in 1941. They are the parents of three children: Diane, 21; Phil, 19, and Janie, 11.

Favorite Sports

Shafer's favorite summer sports are golf, swimming, hiking and horseback riding—"my young one is just crazy about horses."

He shoots a creditable game of golf—in the 80's, sometimes breaking 80. He hasn't had much opportunity to play in the last three years, however.

"When I do get out, it's like renewing an old acquaintance with each club," Shafer remarked in an interview.

Life really hasn't changed that much for Shafer since Scranton took his plunge into the presidential pool a week ago.

Assists Governor

"The governor has asked me to assist him in every way possible in running state government during the month prior to the Republican national convention," Shafer said. "I hope to be able to assist in any problem that needs immediate attention."

But this really is nothing new. Scranton has called on Shafer for assistance frequently in the past.

Notable instances were: Selection of a new Superintendent of Public Instruction—still in progress, Shafer heads a special committee created to screen the field; unemployment compensation—he headed a touring company of state officials who traveled over the state explaining the administration's legislation; and serving as chairman of Scranton's legislative policy committee, a group which did much to influence the shape of administration proposed legislation.

Work Together

"We have attempted to make this office as closely allied with the governor's office as possible," Shafer said.

Scranton does not have to resign should he capture the Republican presidential nomination. But, regardless of his fortunes in presidential politics, he is prohibited by the constitution from succeeding himself as governor in 1966.

Does Shafer have any gubernatorial ambitions two years from now?

"Certainly, I must say in honesty that I have thought about running for governor," he replied. "Frankly, I'm highly complimented by the many people who are urging me to run."

"But that's a long way off yet. Right now, I'm trying to concentrate on putting government in its proper perspective. I don't feel you can hold one office and subtly run for another at the same time. You don't do justice to either that way."

Well, then, what does the future hold in store for Ray Shafer?

"That's something fate, politics, and politicians—including the lieutenant governor—will have to decide."

Scranton Signs Bills Authorizing $1.1 Billion

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton paused from his hectic presidential campaign Thursday to sign into law 10 appropriations bills totaling $1.1 billion.

This included the $1,071,923,225 general appropriation bill to pay for the majority of general expenses of state government during the fiscal year beginning July 1, excepting highway operations.

Another measure signed appropriates some $25.1 million to the Pennsylvania State University—$24,197,700 in maintenance subsidies, plus $1,027,300 for equipment and research grants on coal, slate, field crops, livestock and the elimination of diseases of mushrooms, maple trees and milk cows.

Other bills included:

—$500,000 to the state Board of Education for surveys in vocational, technical and higher education, community colleges, improved curricula and school subsidies.

—$500,000 to the Mines Department for a culm bank utilization pilot plant and $100,000 for research in the treatment of mine acid water.

—$154,500 to establish network facilities for educational television stations.

Goldwater Suicide

We agree with Republican Governor William Scranton that Senator Barry Goldwater's decision yesterday to vote against the civil rights bill is a great mistake.

His vote against the bill is unjustified by his argument that the public accommodation and equal employment opportunity sections are unconstitutional invasions of individual freedom.

It is true that the federal government will be given new powers over individuals who refuse to serve Negroes in places open to public business or refuse to hire qualified Negroes because of discrimination against their race.

Every American would prefer not to give new powers to the federal government. The fact of the matter today is that the federal government must have these powers to assure Negroes basic American rights in politics, education, jobs and public service.

The civil rights bill should not have been necessary, but it is. The bill should not have been filibustered for 80 days in the Senate, but it was.

Goldwater's vote is a mistake because it will further split the Republican party, which needs solid party support for its candidate against President Johnson in November and a candidate who will help elect Republicans at the state and local level.

The Arizona senator's belief that the Republican party must win the South to win the Presidential election is reasonable.

But his apparent hope that he can win the South by supporting its anti-civil rights filibuster is not realistic.

Southern Democrats are opposed to President Johnson on the civil rights bill, but they have supported him on many other political issues. Goldwater is no certain victor in the South.

Overwhelming Republican support for the civil rights bill in both the House and the Senate isolates Goldwater in his anti-civil rights bill position.

The fact that Republican leaders in the House and Senate have provided the leadership and the votes necessary to pass the civil rights bill makes Goldwater's position untenable.

Republican criticism of the man who is also close to being the GOP nominee for President this fall has already mounted to savage proportions.

His decision to vote against the civil rights bill will add to that criticism and his alienation from the "mainstream" of Republican politicians and voters.

We do not agree with many who believe Goldwater to be a John Birch Society, anti-Negro bigot. He does not talk that way and he does not act that way. But he has done everything that right-wing conservatives would like him to do and will therefore be tarred with the same brush.

Goldwater has committed political suicide, no matter how much integrity there may be in his conservative arguments.

It is now up to the Republican party in America to decide whether it will commit suicide with him as its Presidential candidate in November.

Comment Of The Day

"I urge you to repudiate your opposition to the civil rights bill by voting yes on the final passage."

"Your views on this subject to date are opposite to the traditional Republican philosophy of equal opportunities for all, and it is of great importance to our party that you now change your views."

—Governor William Scranton in a telegram to Senator Barry Goldwater.

Scranton Lauded

Gov. William Scranton is doing a big service to the country in challenging Sen. Barry Goldwater. There is at stake in this conflict the future of the Republican Party, and the issue is nothing less than whether the party is to be captured by a faction which rejects its basic principles and is alienated from its historic tradition.

The whole country must be concerned with this struggle. For if the radical right, which Sen. Norris Cotton, who is a Goldwater supporter, calls the arch-conservatives, achieve the unconditional surrender of the party, they will not only split it. For years to come they will have a monopoly of the official opposition to the Democrats. This will be exceedingly bad for the Democrats as well as for the old Republicans. For without a respectable and genuine opposition, the Democratic Party will become soft and confused and vulnerable to factions.

The critical question now is not whether Governor Scranton can at this late date stop the Goldwater machine. The important thing is that the party will not be surrendered without a fight and that there will remain, therefore, a man around whom the party can rally for the elections of 1966 and 1968.

This is in fact a struggle in which Governor Scranton cannot lose. Even if he does not win the nomination in San Francisco, he will have made himself the rallying point for the future. He will have averted the collapse into surrender which Gen. Dwight Eisenhower was willing to let happen.

We can afford to assume that the key to the Republican situation lies in the fact that all the leading Republican figures regard President Johnson as virtually unbeatable in 1964. To be sure, nothing is absolutely impossible in politics. But the undoubted fact is that the Republicans have not been expecting to win in 1964.

It is disbelief in victory this year that is the secret of Goldwater's success. There has been no leader, except Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, who has thought the nomination worth fighting for. This is also the secret of Governor Scranton's long abstention. He has assumed that the nomination would be worth having only under the most improbable conditions — that he won it by acclamation of the Goldwater plus the Rockefeller and Lodge factions.

This impossible calculation led him into the humiliating situation of that Sunday morning some 10 days ago when General Eisenhower ordered him to surrender. After that painful experience, he realized quickly what had happened, and in that moment of illumination he understood that his original assumption was false. He had assumed that the question was whether the nomination was worth having this year. By Thursday evening he had seen that the real question was whether the party was to be surrendered without a fight, not only in 1964, but in fact for 1966 and as well.

If Governor Scranton is to win the nomination, he will need General Eisenhower. For that, General Eisenhower will have to grasp the issue—that the party is about to be captured—and he will have to take a firm stand with the Scranton forces. But this is the Eisenhower of 1954 is still the same man around whom the moderate and progressive Republicans rallied in 1952. It is perhaps too hopeful an assumption.

The Pennsylvania Story

By Mason Denison
HARRISBURG — Reporter's Notebook:

"Is Dot You Hermann?"—What's it like in the gubernatorial suite here, at Capitol Hill now that Governor Scranton has finally announced for the GOP presidential nod? Suffice it to say that the limited staff left behind by campaigning William Warren Scranton is fast going nuts!

This first week after Mr. Scranton let loose his 'I'm-in-there-pitching'—Al (whoever "Al" might be) of last Friday perhaps illustrates what happens "back home" under such circumstances.

For example, Monday, the first full day after Mr. Scranton's announcement found mailmen staggering in with sacks of some 1300 pieces of mail on the Scranton presidential theme. They're running six-to-one vibrantly in favor of the Scranton candidacy. Who are the "loners" in the six-to-one ratio? "They're staunch Goldwaterites," commented an aide.

Phone calls keep pouring in, growing in volume each day. The switchboard at the Governor's Office glows constantly like a lighted Christmas tree. The girls who man the board are fast threatened with losing their voices!

"The whole thing is almost unbelievable," puffs Bob McCormick, who at the last minute was yanked from the Department of Justice to fill in for gubernatorial Press Secretary Jack Conmy now traveling with the Governor.

"Calls and telegrams are constantly coming in from everywhere. Even the West German News Agency has been after us for a Scranton documentary — fact is, we're going quite strong in West Germany!"

The Real Surpriser — One of the completely unexpected sidelights though has developed in the far west — California.

Of all the phone calls, telegrams and letters of support that this week have been pouring into the Scranton den in Capitol Hill, the greatest number by far has come from California, which GOP opponent Barry Goldwater so handily snatched recently from then-in-contention New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller.

The question now being raised is whether — in a showdown between Goldwater and Scranton, in a popular vote, that is — Mr. Goldwater would again come out on top of the pile — or would Mr. Scranton?

Another sidelight that has suddenly developed during the week: Almost overnight the front office has been swamped with requests from television shows across the nation for Scranton appearances — news and feature shows, that is, such as the early morning "Today" program, etc. The requests have been coming in from networks and individual TV stations. In fact, you name the program and chances are nine out of ten a request has been received from that program!

Capital Buzzing

Who's Running The Bakery? — While the Governor is off on the campaign trail, Bill Murphy, the Governor's able Secretary (U.S. Senator Hugh Scott's former administrative assistant) is warming the leather and keeping the fires stoked on the home front.

In addition, Jim Reichley, Mr. Scranton's legislative secretary, remains on board for the moment at least.

With the Governor, as we've already mentioned, is Press Secretary Jack Conmy. Also on the trail is gubernatorial assistant Bill Keisling. Both worked the 1962 Scranton campaign trail incidentally. This personnel schedule isn't necessarily firm — it is expected to fluctuate somewhat as the campaign waxes, as legislative pressures decrease and as the campaign tempo increases.

What about the Governor's wife, Mary? She's right beside him — again following the same pattern used when her husband ran for the governorship year before last.

they made the vacillating King John appear a model of consistency by comparison.

One of the complaints of the barons against the king was the levying of heavy scutages, or fines, for not providing John with as many soldiers as he demanded.

When you have Majority Leader Mike Mansfield and Minority Leader Everett Dirksen secluding Magna Carta with anti-civil rights Richard Russell of Georgia and Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana, it must mean that somebody's interpretation of the Great Charter isn't worth a scut.

Why they all became so Magna Carta-happy, except that they had 75 days and nights to go oratory-drunk in, is difficult for historians to comprehend, because many of the clauses in Magna Carta would seem to have rather tenuous bearings on civil rights.

Why should George Smathers of Florida be all worked up because (Clause VI) "all counties hundreds, wapentakes and ridings are to be at their old farm without any increment except the king's demesne manors?"

When Strom Thurmond of South Carolina and Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota can both invoke Magna Carta in the same debate they must be doing quite a two-way job of reading meanings into it.

Herman Talmadge of Georgia and Thomas Kuchel of California have read such diverse meanings into it that

Magna Carta Rights

WASHINGTON—The Senate ought to vote an appropriation to resod the turf at Runnymede. Senators on both sides dug divots in it during the civil rights contest.

Throughout the 75-day filibuster, and the one-hour closure limitation that followed, scarcely a Senator lurches to his feet without kicking around Magna Carta.

Most of them spoke so familiarly of the signing of the Great Charter at Runnymede, a meadow on the south bank of the Thames, that they could have been there.

It is not too difficult to believe that some of them could have been eyewitnesses. They aged so visibly in the 75 day word war that they now look old enough to have been almost anywhere.

To make it easier to envision them trampling the turf at Runnymede, remember that Monday of this week was an anniversary of Magna Carta. On June 15, 1215, before the civil rights filibuster even got started, King John used the pen that was thrust into his uneager hand to sign the document credited with being the start toward constitutional government.

It could well be a spiritual affinity that makes it hard for our senatorial nestors to keep off the grass at Runnymede. Of Magna Carta, the Encyclopedia Britannica says:

"Its clauses were regarded with veneration long after they were out of date, and men read into them meanings which would have surprised the original drafters."

Our Senators not only would surprise the original drafters; they astound each other.

When Strom Thurmond of South Carolina and Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota can both invoke Magna Carta in the same debate they must be doing quite a two-way job of reading meanings into it.

Herman Talmadge of Georgia and Thomas Kuchel of California have read such diverse meanings into it that

The Allen-Scott Report

Robert S. Allen

WASHINGTON — The "exclusive" fund-raising "President's Club" set up by the late President Kennedy is taking on a new dimension under his successor.

As an inducement to businessmen, industrialists, labor leaders and others to join the select Democratic organization by contributing $1,000 or more, they are being offered "direct access to President Johnson and his White House aides."

Instead of going through regular political channels, club prospects are being told they will be able to deal directly with the President and his staff.

Being singled out for special emphasis is the President's intention to "seek the views and recommendations of club members in considering and selecting federal appointees."

Other membership enticements are being listed, but the above are the most stressed.

This plain cold-turkey selling is being done by two of the President's principal political lieutenants — Clifford Carter, Tex., among the closest to the President, and Richard Maguire, treasurer of the Democratic National Committee and a key Kennedy hold-over.

In a carefully unpublicized drive the Carter-Maguire team is holding private meetings throughout the country to boost the "President's Club's" membership from 1,620 to 3,500 by the start of the great fall election battle.

Illustrative of these membership-selling sessions is the one that recently took place in Cleveland, O.

Held in the Pine Room of a leading hotel, it was attended by some 60 carefully-chosen prospects. They included Mrs. Cyrus Eaton, wife of the prominent industrialist who is a warm friend of Premier Khrushchev and a strong advocate of closer U.S. ties with the Soviet, and Harry H. Stone, executive vice president of the American Greetings Corp.

At the conclusion, about 20 of these hand-picked guests joined the club by fork ing over $1,000. Among them was Mrs. Eaton, who also put up $1,000 for her husband, and Stone.

Another 20 indicated they were interested but wanted to think it over. The remainder were noncommittal.

The Sales Pitch — The evening's proceedings opened with cocktails, dinner and a round of introductions.

Carter then took over, relating the origin of the "President's Club" under President Kennedy, its primary purpose of raising campaign funds, and the various advantages to members. On the latter, Carter was frankly explicit.

"The President's Club" is very exclusive," he said. "Now its members are assured of direct relationship with President Johnson."

In dealing with the President or members of his White House staff, members will not have to go through state or national party officials. A member who wants to talk to the President or one of his assistants has only to contact my office. That's all that's necessary. The member will immediately be put in contact with whomever he wants to reach."

This alluring gambit was clinched by Carter as follows:

"The President plans to seek the views and recommendations of club members in considering and selecting federal appointees. The President also recognizes that businessmen and industrialists know the value of the dollar better than anyone else, and make outstanding administrators when named to important public office."

Unexpectedly and obviously much to Carter's startled discomfiture, this glowing pronouncement boomeranged.

Patrick O'Malley, head of the Cleveland AFL-CIO, took blunt exception to Carter's enthusiastic acclaim of the qualifications of business executives. O'Malley emphatically contended that labor leaders were equally capable of filling government jobs.

Apparently not aware that a laborite was present, Carter immediately sought to make amends — by fully agreeing with O'Malley.

"I assure you every consideration will be given qualified union representatives in filling positions," Carter earnestly promised. "President Johnson is in constant consultation with labor leaders, and those who join the 'President's Club' will have the same access to him and his White House staff as other members."

Starboard
"Starboard" refers to the right-hand side of a ship or boat as one aboard faces toward the front of the boat. The word is of Anglo-Saxon origin.

Long ago, boats were steered by an oarsman who sat at the rear and held his paddle over the right-hand side into the water. The right-hand side was chosen, no doubt, because a large majority of persons are right-handed.

The Anglo-Saxons called the right-hand side of a boat "steorboard," the steer side. "Steor" was derived from the verb "stearan" (to steer) and "bord" (side). Over the centuries "steorboard" was changed to the current form, "starboard."

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I read in your column that a woman was in doubt about what to put on her mother's headstone. The mother had been married twice, and the daughter wanted to use only her mother's FIRST husband's name. You said, "It's your mother, and you are paying for the monument, so go ahead and put whatever you want on it."

Effect, believe it or not, Abby, in some states the name on a grave memorial is considered by the Bureau of Vital Statistics to be legal proof of death, and to use any name other than the legal name of the deceased at the time of death is illegal. So, the daughter should have her mother's headstone marked with her mother's given name, her first husband's surname, and her second husband's surname. Example: MARY SMITH JONES.

THE BIGGEST FOOL IN ROCHESTER

DEAR ABBY: I have a married daughter who has become very fat, sloppy and lazy. Her house is a mess, and she spends all of her time reading or talking on the telephone. She shouts at her children and expects her hard-working husband to do her housework on the weekends. He is ashamed to bring anyone to the house and I am sure the children are not very proud of their home or mother. Should I have a talk with her and try to set her straight? Or does a mother's duty end after her daughter gets married?

DEAR MOTHER: A mother's duty ends when her children become of age. But her love and concern for their happiness and well-being continues as long as she lives. Yes, have a talk with your daughter. It would appear that she needs more than a "talk" or reprimand. Take her to a physician for a much-needed checkup and diet.

DEAR ABBY: Please print this so someone else won't make the same mistake I made: Five months ago a very attractive friend called me at my place of work and said he was in the process of getting a divorce, and asked if I would have coffee with him. I accepted. Next there were lunch dates. Then dinner and evening dates. He told me he loved me and I told him I loved him. (I really did.) We started making plans for "our" future. People began to talk, but I didn't care because I knew it was only a matter of time and he would be free to marry me.

Today he and his wife are back together. The man who "loved" me didn't even have the courtesy to tell me about the reconciliation. He had his WIFE call me! Please, Abby, put this in your column: "Until a man's divorce is FINAL, a woman is a fool to say more than 'hello' to him." And sign me . . .

DEAR ABBY: How can a person address an invitation to a wedding reception to make it known that only adults are wanted? Ours is going to be a catered wedding reception and we will be charged for the plate. We have a large family and don't want to feed a gang of kids. Can we put "POSITIVELY ADULTS ONLY" on the invitations?

DEAR MUST: It is considered poor taste to put "ADULTS ONLY" on an invitation. Speak with those whom you suspect might bring their children, and tell them firmly but diplomatically that the kiddies are not invited.

Speaking Of Your Health:

Facts About Appendicitis

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Q: What is the appendix?
A: The appendix is a narrow pouch that juts out of the small intestine where it joins the large intestine.

Q: Does it have a function?
A: It does not. It may have had a function during the early development of man, but today it serves no purpose.

Q: How does it become inflamed and infected, and cause appendicitis?
A: Appendicitis is caused by an infection by bacteria, most often the streptococcus.

Q: Can appendicitis occur in all age groups?
A: Yes, but most often between the ages of 10 and 40.

Q: Are there positive symptoms of appendicitis?
A: Attacks of appendicitis are usually accompanied by fever, nausea, vomiting, and crampy pains in the lower abdomen. However, these symptoms are common to so many other intestinal disorders that only a doctor can make a definite diagnosis.

Q: The diagnosis of appendicitis is probably one of the most difficult of all diagnoses and requires expert judgment and experience. Studies of the blood are helpful, but not in themselves conclusive evidence of appendicitis.

Q: Can appendicitis be cured by freezing the abdomen with an ice bag?
A: Sometimes the progress of an early attack of appendicitis can be stopped in this way. Under no circumstances, however, should this be done without the positive direction of a doctor.

Q: Is it safe to take enemas or laxatives with abdominal cramps?
A: No! The use of enemas and laxatives is fraught with danger in abdominal and intestinal conditions. They should never be given when there are symptoms of an intestinal disorder, unless specifically prescribed by a physician. Appendicitis can be severely complicated by the use of enemas and laxatives.

Q: Can surgery be avoided in appendicitis?
A: Sometimes it can be. But surgery is often the safest and most satisfactory form of treatment for the cure of acute appendicitis. The excellence of today's anesthesia and the competence of surgeons makes the risk of surgery far less than the risk of delay.

It is understandable that patients would prefer to avoid any operation. But appendicitis is unquestionably considered a "disease of surgery," and when the diagnosis is made and operation advised, no patient need have undue anxiety about this surgical procedure.

This is one decision that is wisely made by the doctor, not the patient.

Kresge Gives Scranton Pep Talk

STROUDSBURG — Harold Kresge, Monroe County Republican Chairman addressed the Monroe County Scranton for President Club last night with M. Stiles Baldwin, chairman of the newly reorganized group, presiding.

Kresge outlined the movement to put the Pennsylvania governor in the White House, Baldwin said at a meeting called to organize the club which had been inactive until Scranton's declaration that he would run last Friday.

Included in the reorganization, Martin said, was the decision to increase the club's committee from six to ten members. They expect to reopen headquarters at the 7th St. offices next week.

Baldwin said they plan to have various county Republican groups meet at headquarters at all times.

"We're going to have a real try at getting local support for Scranton's fight for the presidency," he concluded.

Banker Raps FHA Loans At NAACP

STROUDSBURG — The vice president of the Monroe Security Bank and Trust Co. said last night his bank is reluctant to give mortgages insured by the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) because of red tape.

Robert Davenport, speaking at a meeting of the Monroe County Chapter of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People in the Stroudsburg YMCA said, "FHA loans are very difficult to process and are given out cautiously because of a history of bad risks."

Davenport explained the various ways of getting a home mortgage and said Monroe Security does not give home loans for more than a 20 year period.

He noted this time limit on mortgage money is 10 years longer than the bank gave 10 years ago.

Davenport cautioned borrowers not to obligate themselves to monthly mortgage payments that exceed one week's salary.

In other business, Howard Best, chairman of the chapter's youth group, reported many Negro students have been able to get summer employment and some are out looking for work.

Mustang Hardtop

Some people just didn't realize how much Fords have changed. Then, they came in to see Mustang — and took their first good look around a Ford showroom. They saw the hottest line of cars in America... the "Car of the Year" Award winners... the best-built Fords ever. They saw cars so smartly styled, so easy to handle, so good to drive, that they made this the best sales year in Ford Division history even before the Mustang came out. They saw America's leading performance car — the Super Torque Ford (hardtop sales up 54%). They saw America's most famous personal luxury car — Thunderbird — with sales up 68% over last year's record. They found out why Falcon almost outsells Chevy II and Valiant combined. And why Fairlane is a pace-setter in its own field. One look can make you fall in love with any one of Ford's 46 models. A test drive can make you a Ford man forever.

Just Between Us —

Thursday is my athletic day. After crouching over a type writer for the number of hours required to turn out two pages of copy a day for a week and the other hours of sitting at laurel luncheons and playhouse openings and kitchen tours, I need to stretch my muscles the other way.

I didn't intend it to be quite as athletic as it turned out. Having set the alarm for 7, I woke up at what I thought was quarter of, primed and ready for the day, which from the sun shining weakly through the mist on the river promised to be a fine one.

I let out the dog, turned on the coffee, and took the papers to the incinerator to burn them while it was still damp and before the wind rose. While I was watching the conflagration that rivaled the sunrise, the dog took off in pursuit of a rabbit with only the moving grasses to show his weaving progress through the fields.

Back in the house for coffee and to wait for his return, I discovered to my horror that it was just then 6 a. m. That's a mighty early hour to be up, but it is an impossible hour to go out calling and whistling for a dog — that is if you want to be friends with vacationing neighbors.

So I washed and scrubbed and went to the window to watch between intervals of hiking through the wet grass to see if I could find him, while the dawn grew brighter and then faded away again. With a nine o'clock appointment, my hikes grew longer and more frantic as the hour grew later.

Finally, he came home, dripping wet from taking an early morning dip, covered with the cold moss from the coldwood poplar and burrs from last year's burdock. It took a good half hour of toweling and snarling before I could leave. He went to sleep but it's no wonder I couldn't play a real brisk game of golf.

No mood lasts forever. All through May luncheons and early June weddings, requiring hats, gloves and heels, we've been waiting for summer and the chance to just slop around. But after a few weeks of shorts and sandals, slacks and our shirt-tails hanging out, a woman gets a yen to get dressed up.

We've got some mighty pretty "dressedy" dresses. Not fancy or fussy but sort of elegant in pure silk, in embroidered cotton, in chiffon. There's a pongee-type silk from the orient; a heavenly blue quilted topped number with a pleated skirt, and several floor-length prints to make you look tall, slim, and different.

For those weddings yet to come, the lawn party you might feel inclined to give, or just those days when you've had your hair done and are freshly powdered, these dresses are guaranteed to make you look as elegant as you feel.

THE WYCKOFF SHOPPER

Wednesday was another busy day in our fashion departments, as our models for next week's fashion show at Unity House descended upon us in pretty hordes to be fitted. First was Marlene Andrews, who simply stepped from our advertising department into our Sportswear department, and came away a few minutes later all ready to take the spotlight on Wednesday evening, the 24th.

Marlene is young, slim, and definite in her tastes, so finding the right merchandise for her wasn't too much of a chore. Her big workout came in the afternoon when Rod MacLeod of the Daily Record stopped by our Keystone Room to take pictures, and we fitted her into a full skirted ball gown of black net with jet beading, which will be featured in the Israeli half of the show. "Piouette," Mac commanded, and Marlene swirled and twirled like a ballerina on a music box. "Smile," Mac ordered, and the breathless Marlene stopped zooming around long enough to say, "I can't—I'm too busy wondering whether the safety pin at the back will hold."

Bonnie Fleis of Hadassah was on hand to oversee the picture taking, which involved Marsha Coates in swim wear; Joan Pitzer in shorts and shirt, and Mona Wilush in a wrap around skirt which she isn't wearing in the show, but happened to be modeling at the moment. Ritz Katz and Kate Mullins were there too, Kate wearing the indescribably magnificent jet and silver-embroidered black velvet theatre coat which was first seen here several years ago, but which was so fabulous many persons requested to see it again if possible.

That coat weighs 15 pounds or thereabouts and is absolutely terrific. It seems impossible that teen-age designers could have dreamed of it and actually made it, but they did. Estelle Koster, Hadassah's outgoing president, tells me I am to wear it on stage for the second half of the show... only briefly, I hasten to add, for one might be a bit weary after carrying it around very long. A short girl could never do it... it was made for height, just as it was made for elegance.

I am sure that elsewhere in our store big things are happening. I do know that there are collegiate faces returning once again to our selling floor. I do know that with Father's Day being this Sunday, June 21st, the men's department is very busy. So is our Cardcade. I know also that our men's department is being renovated, inch by inch, day by day and has spread out considerably from its former confines. But don't ask me to write about these things at any great length. At the moment, I can think only in terms of models... lights... music... and fashions.

And here is something you may not have heard: Unity House is bringing here as a guest entertainer for our show, a dashing young singer who is definitely on his way to the height. Robert Cole was leading man in the road company of "West Side Story" and has just signed a contract with NBC for the Telephone Hour. All of THIS... yet to see the $1,000,000 theatre at Unity House is alone worth the 1.50 admission fee.

How to buy an electric shaver (Perfect gift for Father's Day and Graduation)

1. Have an uncomfortable shave for the last time. No man should put up with a shave that is irritating or unpleasant day after day. Shaving should be convenient and comfortable. And today it is—with the comfort shave.

2. Talk to your dealer about electric shavers. He'll show you several brands. Most of them have blades which go back and forth. Only Norelco Speedshavers have rotary blades which go round and round.

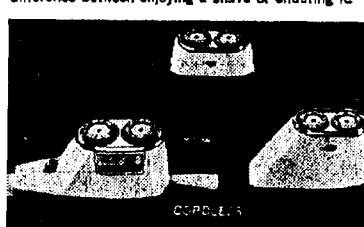

3. Look at both kinds. Back and forth blades stop and change direction constantly. Norelco rotary blades whirl continuously in one direction. They stroke off whiskers without pinch or pull.

4. Ask about speed and closeness. Today's electric shavers all shave fast and with about equal closeness. The important difference is in the comfort they give. It's the difference between enjoying a shave or enduring it.

5. Ask about comfort. Only Norelco rotary blades give you the comfort shave. Norelco rotary blade action is so smooth, the face actually feels soothed. It's the most comfortable way to shave close and clean.

6. Select your Norelco: New Norelco "floating-head" Speedshaver. Heads swivel to fit face. New "flip-top" Speedshaver, world's best seller. New Norelco Cordless, battery-powered. All give the comfort shave.

Inexpensive But Departure Gives Contemporary Tone

An inexpensive but extremely clever departure from conventional two-story construction gives this basically Early American home just enough of a contemporary tone to make it exciting both inside and out.

Architect Samuel Paul designed the home as H-35 in the House of the Week series—and added support to the old maxim that good things do come in small packages.

Paul's unusual innovation is a separate and raised formal living room wing, with true cathedral ceiling and adjoining covered rear porch.

He achieved it by redistributing the second floor area so that there are no rooms above the living room. Then he exploited the shift by elevating the space. The result is not only a soaring cathedral ceiling on the inside, but a streamlined exterior as well.

Moreover, elevating the living room enables an option of basement plans: Either a partial basement under the living room only (plainly the more economical choice), or a full basement under the entire first floor.

There's another optional feature in the house, in the kitchen. Paul's plan shows a built-in snack bar, which could be hinged to fold back and allow a regular dinette table, or eliminated completely. The choice is up to the owner.

The house is securely in the medium-small category despite its abundance of livable space. The first floor contains 965 square feet of living area; the upstairs 1,000 square feet. The cellar would contain either 366 square feet or 857 square feet, depending on the size chosen. Overall dimensions are 64 feet by 26 feet, eight inches and Paul recommends at least an 80 foot by 85 foot lot.

Additional Details

Creative design features abound in this tidy home—none of them expensive trills, but all touches of the sort that give the house personality.

Not the least of these is a spacious deck adjoining the master bedroom upstairs. This is no decorative balcony; it's a 116-square-foot private relaxing area that completes an already lavishly comfortable master bedroom suite. On the opposite end of the room is a dressing room with four closets, a built-in vanity, and an adjoining full bath with five foot, six-inch tub.

Elsewhere upstairs are three nice sized family bedrooms, all with large closets, a family sized main bathroom with double lavatories, and a hallway wide enough to accommodate house-cleaning paraphernalia with ease.

The downstairs features a flagstone floored recreation foyer with double closets, a stone planter, and an open staircase to the second floor. An attractive grille divides the stair and living room, and there is another planter at the platform level of the stair.

On the other side of the foyer is the formal dining room with a projecting front bay. To the rear is the family room and spacious kitchen.

The kitchen-family room-service room ensemble rates well in this home.

In the kitchen itself there is plenty of counter space, a double sink, double oven, built-in dishwasher, sit-down desk and the optional snack bar.

CONTEMPORARY TONE — A raised formal living room is exploited in this four-bedroom home with a cathedral ceiling and adjoining covered porch. On the outside, the treatment imparts a contemporary flavor to the basically Early American design. Architect is Samuel Paul.

A pass-through permits easy service to the family room. Adjoining on the other side is the service area with laundry space, a closet and lavatory. The rear service entry is excellently located here.

But surely the most dramatic feature of all is the raised living room with its booming ceiling, handsome fireplace, bay window and adjoining 209-square-foot covered porch.

H-35 STATISTICS
A modified two-story home containing 965 square feet of living area on first floor; 1,009 square feet on second. Garage and service area are 527 square feet; covered porch 209 square feet; master deck 116 square feet; optional choice of cellars either 366 square feet or 857 square feet, working drawings and material list indicate both. Over-all dimensions are 64 feet wide by 26 feet, eight inches. Minimum recommended lot size: 80 feet by 85 feet.

FLOOR PLANS — Not counting the garage and service area and porches, this well arranged layout includes a total of 1,974 square feet—965 square feet on the first floor and 1,009 upstairs. Over-all dimensions are 6 foot wide by 26' eight inches deep.

Sump Pump Will Handle Basement Water Seepage

SEEPAGE of water into basements has become increasingly prevalent in recent years as new home construction has extended into subdivisions which only recently were open fields or wooded areas.

Since this type of ground is usually heavily laden with moisture, many householders find themselves confronted with how to handle the problem of water which seeps in around the walls and basement floor.

The answer suggested by the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau is a sump pump, which will also handle the equally serious difficulty often created by heavy rains or spring thaws. (If you are in one of these "danger areas," ask a qualified plumbing contractor about the advisability of installing an overhead loop in the sewer line to prevent water backing up.) Many sump pump dealers recommend that the water be discharged into a filter of tile and loose stones buried in the back yard. It then gently seeps away into the garden or yard.

Sump pumps come in several different sizes to meet varying load requirements. The Bureau advises consulting with an experienced plumbing contractor.

House Hunters Are Advised To Check Plumbing

As the heart of a house, plumbing serves every member of the family every day—little else, in fact, is used as much. Because of this vital importance to convenience and health, the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau advises close scrutiny of a home's plumbing system by prospective buyers.

A good place to start checking is at the water heater—it should be a modern, automatically fired model, of sufficient size to meet the needs of the family. Ideally, a tank should be no smaller than 40 gallons capacity.

Safety features of the water heater are also important. It is essential that there be an approved-type temperature and relief valve. Similarly, there should be a drainage valve at the bottom of the unit to allow draining sediment from the tank at regular intervals. This is an important procedure in the prevention of corrosion. The heater should also be equipped with a shut-off valve to permit repairing the unit without turning off the water in the entire house.

Basic Aspect
A very basic aspect concerning a plumbing system's worth is the piping. A house with bad piping is most often a bad investment. In the basement, check the pipes that lead from the water heater with particular care. If they leak, a replacement job will be needed before long. (NOTE: Do not confuse summer pipe "sweating" with leaking.)

Observe the way in which the piping has been installed in the basement. If it runs parallel to the building walls, it's generally a good sign that the entire system was carefully installed.

Perhaps the most significant piece of piping in the system is the service line that brings the water from the street main into the house. The diameter of this pipe is vital in determining whether there is an adequate flow to fixtures and water-supplied appliances.

In simple terms, adequate flow means that mother can do the wash without fear of choking off dad's shower water — it means plenty of water available at all times. Usually, the diameter of the service line can be checked at the point it enters the water meter. Size requirement varies with family, fixture and appliance demands, but as a rule, no less than 1/2 inch piping should be used for this line. In any case, it should be large enough to handle increased demands in future years.

Good System
In addition to having a full-flow, a good plumbing system should be a quiet one. Turn on a faucet wide open and then close it abruptly. Is there a chattering noise in the pipes? That's water hammer. It is not only a noisy annoyance, but harmful to the system, as well, causing leakage around joints and weak points. The installation of air chambers or shock absorbers usually remedies the situation.

"Whistling" often indicates excessive pressure within the system. A pressure-reducing valve will many times correct the problem, although sometimes a major piping overhaul is necessary.

Water that enters the house must also leave — this is where the waste line comes in. There are two important points about waste piping that a buyer should make sure of: it should be free of obstructions both inside and outside the house; it should have properly functioning traps to prevent sewer gas from entering the house.

While all waste line stoppage is undesirable, stoppage inside the house is not nearly as serious as stoppage outside. Outside obstructions, usually due to either a collapse of the sewer walls or from tree roots grown into the pipe, sometimes necessitate digging up the yard for repairs.

Another important factor in the waste line is the number of clean-out plugs. The system should have an adequate number so that there is a plug wherever the pipe changes direction.

Ticket Racket Resolution Blasts 'Sordid' Frauds

HARRISBURG — Pennsylvania House resolution, which finally passed the Senate Tuesday, criticizes "a serious malpractice" of Philadelphia police in issuing traffic citations to citizens who were not in the city on the date specified.

Instigated by a series of articles last January by Daily Record columnist Mason Denison, the resolution, this week, also uses the words "fraud," "sordid picture," and "unwarranted and everbearing imposition upon the good citizens of Pennsylvania."

The resolution orders an investigation by the Joint State Government Commission into the alleged traffic ticket racket and empowers it to recommend new legislation to the next General Assembly.

Poco Complaints

Many residents of the Pocomos have been plagued with false citations, not only from Philadelphia, but also Pittsburgh and Altoona.

Any local citizen who receives an improper citation and who was not in the city at the time it specifies may go by the Stroudsburg office of the AAA, where they may make a notarized statement to that effect which will take care of the ticket, Mrs. Irene Werkheiser, manager, said.

Part of the text of the joint resolution follows:

"Preliminary evidence clearly indicates that a serious malpractice on the part of a person or persons within the City of Philadelphia has been perpetrated upon many of the citizens of Pennsylvania through the issuance of traffic violation citations to innocent citizens of the State who were not in Philadelphia on the dates specified.

The sordid picture has been strikingly and clearly exposed by syndicated columnist Mason Denison in a series of four articles appearing in some forty daily newspapers throughout the state on Jan. 20, 21, 22 and 23 based on the written and sworn evidence of victims.

The evidence since then of the widespread malpractice has mounted appallingly to indicate an almost wholesale issuance, seemingly at random, of false citations of traffic violations within the City of Philadelphia upon citizens of Pennsylvania, who, to cite a few instances, were bedridden at the time, deceased, out of State, or whose vehicle had been previously junked.

"Threats of arrest, withholding of license renewal and similar acts involving what might be termed 'fear of reprisal,' have forced many an innocent victim to unjustly pay his or her traffic fine.

Therefore be it resolved (the Senate concurring), that the Joint State Government Commission be directed to study and investigate the alleged traffic ticket racket exposed by Columnist Denison on the part of the City of Philadelphia, to determine:

(1) How this alleged malpractice started.

(2) Why it has been permitted to continue and flourish.

(3) The manner in which it has been permitted to operate.

(4) Determination of those responsible for the malpractice itself.

(5) Determination of those who carried out the alleged malpractice.

(6) Determination of the funds derived from the alleged malpractice.

Monroe Planners Praised For 1965 Budget Of $20,619

STROUDSBURG — The Monroe County Planning Commission yesterday submitted its first budget to the Monroe County Commissioners, who praised the group for its work.

The budget showed an estimated cost of $6,369 for 1964 and $20,619.50 for 1965, making a 16-month total of $26,988.50.

After discussion, the commissioners approved the budget and voted to give the commission $500 of its allocated $2,500 for 1964.

Appearing for the planning commission were budget committee members John Mills, Joseph Lisicky, Montgomery F. Crowe, Chester Miller, and Ralph Repert.

U. S. Aid Sought

The group said that the budget would be included in an application to the state for federal "701" planning assistance aid funds, and that after state approval, it would try to hire a director within a few months.

Federal funds, disbursed through the Bureau of Community Development in Harrisburg, make up two-thirds of the cost, while the county chips in the other third.

The budget shows that for the 16-month period from September, 1964 through December, 1965, the total cost of the program would be $26,988.50, which includes a contingency fund of $2,453.

$20,619 Cost In 1965

For 1964, the cost would be $6,369—of which $5,040 is for administration. The 1965 share would be $20,619—of which $15,120 is for administration. Total administration for the 16-month period comes to $20,160.

The additional $6,000 is taken up by the contingency fund, $1,600 for travel, $50 for staffing and advertising, $500 for graphic supplies, $200 for technical publications, and $925 for reports.

Annual Salaries

The budget committee has set the following tentative annual salaries: executive director, $9,000; part-time engineering draftsman, $3,000; full-time clerk-stenographer, $3,120.

County Share One Third

For 1964, the county share of the cost would be $2,500, including the contingency fund, while the federal share would be $3,669.

For 1965, the county share would be $8,122.83 and the federal share $12,496.67. For the 16-month period, the county share comes to $10,631.83 and the federal to $16,356.67.

County Planner

The budget is prefaced with a description of the work of the executive director, a professional county planning director.

As a basic element of the continuing planning program, the director will be required to prepare a manual of administrative policies and procedures.

He will also prepare a long-range prospectus for a county-wide planning program. This report will include a definition of the major problems—both long and short term.

Also, the types of planning studies appropriate to provide solutions to the problems will be identified.

County Master Plan

He will then prepare a detailed scope of work to institute a comprehensive plan for the county. The planning studies included will be eligible for federal assistance.

He will determine which work will fall under the planning to be done by a planning commission and which will have to be done by the county.

$260,075 Added To Monroe Tax Rolls

STROUDSBURG — The chief assessor's office yesterday reported $235,400 in tax exonerations (reductions or exonerations) and $812,475 in additions for 1964, up until July 1, to the Monroe County Commissioners. The changes produce a net increase of $260,075 in county assessed valuation.

The report showed that the assessor had given exonerations of $89,450 on land and $282,950 on buildings, while putting $9,725 in land and $602,750 in buildings on the tax rolls.

Most of the land and buildings were either camps or private tax appeals, according to the report from C. A. Nauman, chief county assessor.

In other business, the board approved a motion to give the Monroe County Planning Commission $500 from its allocation of $2,500 to pay bills.

P. V. Manor Construction, M. R. Kiefer of Rinker, Kiefer and Rake, architects for the addition to Pleasant Valley Manor, and Elmer Woodling, the job inspector for the commissioners, met with the board.

They discussed use of a type of backfill different from the specifications. Kiefer said that the new backfill would cost no more and is much superior to the specifications. It is crushed stone being taken from another construction project near the home.

Also, Lloyd Altomose resigned as school director of the Chestnut Hill School Board. He was replaced by Maynard W. Sternor by the Chestnut Hill board.

Airport Plans Ready
LeRoy Dangler and E. Kenney Crothers of the Mt. Pocono Airport Authority met with the board and told it that the authority had approved Crothers' plans for construction at the airport.

"We will try to put the project out on bids as soon as possible," Dangler said.

Edward Hess, county engineer, said that he has drawn up specifications on the basketball court for the Third St. playground in Stroudsburg.

He said he has sent invitations to bid to four contractors.

Also, he added that he has drawn up specifications for repaving the Henryville Bridge.

Cy Barrett Says

Egos And Wallets

By Cyrus Barrett, Jr.

DEAR CY: "Unless you are an emotional cliff-hanger, I see no way an aptitude test could be other than beneficial." Those are your words. Right out of your column, remember? I applied for a drive-in restaurant franchise and was given a brief aptitude test and was turned down flat. Most of the money I already had, but they wouldn't let me in. Do you call that "beneficial"? It's time you ate your words.

BLASINGAME

DEAR BLASINGAME: Even without details on the particular eatery franchise, it seems you need the nourishment. Playing financial maintenance for a restaurant which is incompatible with your behavior pattern could bring on more than mild gastritis. The growing Mister Donut franchise organization quizzes applicants with psychological questions. It feels some nuts will spend dough for a donut franchise without proper mental credentials.

Here's one of Operations V.P. Nick Fiorentino's favorite questions: "Say you were waiting in a long Saturday night movie line to buy a ticket. Someone snuck in front of you. Would you: A. Say nothing and let him get away with it? B. Tell him politely 'I think you are in the wrong place,' or C. Snap angrily, 'Buddy you'd better get back where you belong'?" Unless you'd snap angrily (C), you'd be better off without Mister Donut.

Florentino says, "I know we're supposed to be polite to customers at all times, but, frankly, the guy we're looking for will take no nonsense from anybody. We'd be happier with a hard-nosed, hard-headed cookie who'd be difficult to push around. After all, this is a tough business." Each business has its unique qualifications for success. Rejoice, Blasingame! Deflated egos fall faster than flattened wallets.

CY

DEAR CY:

What would you suggest for a persevering woman with a fiery temper who can't make up her mind? I want to study something at home which can lead to making money. Mostly, I lean toward sewing, being very handy with a needle, but could be diverted to something else. I am 46, 5 feet 6 inches tall, weigh 137 and have been married but once. Is there anything else you need to know about me before sending a reply?

MRS. BLOSS

DEAR MRS. BLOSS:

Outside of wondering whether you needed your husband out of the house, I can't think of a thing. There are three accredited home study courses connected with sewing which may interest you.

For information, write: Technical Home Study Schools, Little Falls, New Jersey (Millinery, Design, Custom Slip Covers); Lifetime Career Schools, 11826 San Vicente, Los Angeles (Dressmaking). You may also wish to study the free directory of accredited home study schools which I am enclosing. Careful you don't get sidetracked by fingerprinting, blacksmithing or thermodynamics. P.S. Any other readers desiring a free copy of the directory have only to write me, enclosing a self-addressed envelope, in care of this newspaper.

CY

WHAT DOES IT TAKE TO MAKE MORE MONEY? For a FREE, up-to-date list of Cy Barrett's selected publications, write him, c/o this newspaper, but please include a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

WHY NOT BETTER YOURSELF? Ask Cy your personal business questions. Write him, c/o this newspaper, and include a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 4, add 4. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Washington Report

Goldwater Platform Attack Based On Political Realism

By Richard Spong
Editorial Research Report
WASHINGTON — The determination of "moderate" Republicans to write a progressive platform at the San Francisco convention whether they stop the nomination of Sen. Barry Goldwater or not falls somewhere between window dressing and whistling in the dark.

Gov. Scranton, Gov. Romney and Gov. Rockefeller have all said in almost the same words that they want — in Scranton's version — "the kind of platform that is in our progressive tradition."

But Sen. Goldwater has shown no indication that he would feel bound by such a platform.

Quite the contrary. As recently as Jan. 24 the senator told a Young Republican audience that he would not care to run on the relatively liberal 1960 Republican platform — because the party had lost one election on it.

Goldwater added: "At best, political platforms are a packet of misinformation and lies."

Goldwater was expressing the hard-boiled, modern political facts of life. Toward the end of the last century James G. Blaine, once a Presidential candidate himself, declared: "Formerly the platform was of first importance. . . The Presidential candidate was held closely to the text, and he made no excursions beyond it. Now the position of the candidate, as defined by himself, is of far more weight with the voters."

The Democratic platform in 1904 had excluded all reference to the money question, but the nominee, Alton B. Parker, sent the convention a telegram asserting his view that the gold standard was firmly and irrevocably established and declaring that he would act accordingly if elected in November.

He added that he would decline the nomination if his view proved unsatisfactory to a majority of the convention.

By a 794 to 191 vote, the convention ruled that inasmuch as the platform was "silent on the question," it would be perfectly proper for Parker to accept.

William H. Taft in 1908 endorsed a proposed constitutional amendment for direct election of senators, although a minority plank proposing such endorsement had been voted down in the G.O.P. convention.

Charles Evans Hughes in 1916 endorsed a proposed amendment for woman suffrage although the convention had recognized "the right of each state to settle this question for itself."

President Wilson in 1913 opposed a constitutional amendment to limit the President to one term although the Democratic platform of 1912 had declared for a single term and had added: "We pledge the candidate of this convention to this principle."

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA
GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
HARRISBURG

May 20, 1964

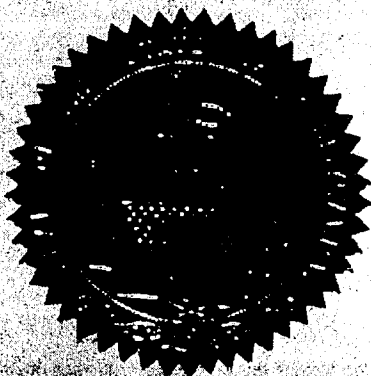

GREETINGS:

The thoughts of many Americans turn to Pennsylvania as vacation time approaches, especially since the opening of the New York World's Fair. Pennsylvania has been welcoming tourists from every state in the Union who stop here on their way to or from the Fair.

One of Pennsylvania's great scenic and recreational attractions easily accessible to Fair-goers is the Pocono Mountain region, less than two hours from New York City.

In behalf of the people of Pennsylvania, I want to extend a cordial invitation to tourists to include the Pocono Mountains, as well as other areas of the State, in their vacation itinerary.

We are proud of Pennsylvania—its historic sites, thriving cities, magnificent scenery, and the new look it is acquiring. We invite all Americans to come and witness our progress.

BY A WATER FALL — In Monroe County there are many small dams. Many were built to feed water to grist mills, now they attract the fisherman and visitors. In some locations the original grist mill is still standing, but no longer operated. The dams played a major role in the livelihood of the early settlers in Pennsylvania.

By JEFF COX
Record Reporter
STROUDSBURG — In the early part of the 1700's a handful of white men tumbled down the rocky slopes that rim Monroe County — and thus blazed the first trails into this wilderness.

When these footpaths became wide enough, and most of the briars and rattlesnakes were cleared away, horses started carrying the settlers into the area.

Sitting on his horse overlooking the county, the settler probably heard nothing but an occasional animal.

When the horse - paths became hard enough so that they weren't thin scars of mud in the spring, the carriages came, bearing the well-to-do of the surrounding urban areas.

Hotels Built

Great hotels were built on the slopes down which those forebears tumbled. A railroad came through the water gap and wound northward.

Then with a popping and blasting, the horseless carriage came blustering into the Pocono Mountains.

Inherent within its wood and steel and fabric frame, foreshadowed in its nasty backfiring, was the whole new era of transportation.

The roads metamorphized slowly from dirt to crushed stone to tar to asphalt to concrete.

Then, in the late fifties, a road system so immense and costly, that only the federal government could have conceived it, began to flow smoothly across the county.

If the automobiles of the turn of the century were prototypes of the quiet and powerful modern car, then the roads of that era were the prototypes of the sleek new concrete four-laners.

Central Location

Monroe County was in for more than one such road, however. Blessed with a centralized location, the county was given three spanking new freeways.

From the south, Route 115 muscles through Wind Gap and streaks toward Snyder'sville. Its four lanes channel trade from Philadelphia, and points south, smack into Monroe County.

When it hits Snyder'sville, it hooks up with Route 209. While 115 heads up toward Bartonsville, 209 roars into Stroudsburg.

From the east, Interstate Route 80 follows an easy course through Delaware Water Gap, with thanks to Mother Nature. From this direction flows trade from New York, Boston, and the whole megapolis between the two.

Crosses the Delaware

This road crosses the Delaware into Pennsylvania over the toll bridge and runs toward Stroudsburg, discharging people toward Marshall's Creek and the eastern Poconos, or into East Stroudsburg.

Interstate 80 is part of a magnificent road that will ultimately connect New York and Los Angeles.

Interstate 80 bulls through the twin boroughs and breathes freely as it heads toward Bartonsville and a link-up with 115 coming from the south.

The two roads connect and 80 runs toward its admirable destiny as the mother of two of the finest highways in the nation.

At an obscure point near Crescent Lake, just over the Tunkhannock Twp. line, Interstate 80 will soon bear two children. And what children they'll be!

One spur will shoot off to the North. It will be a segment of the Pen-Can Highway, which will funnel traffic from the trade centers of eastern America toward Canada.

The other is the Keystone Shortway, which ends at Sharon, just across from the Ohio border. This means that traffic from the east will be shuttled toward Chicago, Detroit, and all points west.

Hub of Nation

When the Shortway is completed — supposedly by 1966 — and the Pen-Can Highway is completed—the Monroe County spur is slated for completion the same year—the Pocono Mountains will become a hub of traffic and commerce for almost half the nation.

That's the beauty of its location. By being where it is, in relation with the commercial centers of half the nation, the county becomes the modern equivalent of a great switchyard. It will take the commercial transportation of the nation and shunt it this way and that.

All the while, it can retain its natural beauty. Despite the cleared areas where the white concrete strips run, much of the county is still unspoiled woodland.

What an end to be desired: the hub of commerce, and at the same time, a scenic and wooded vacationland.

Monroe County is a paradox of modern civilization.

Today, a man can still stand on the quiet slope of one of the mountains that ring the county, as his 18th century counterpart did.

He might still hear the sound of the animals or the birds. . . but with one important difference.

No longer are the animals the only sound he hears — underlying the quite rustle of the Pocono forest is the low and distant hum of the engines and the wheels of the life-blood of the nation.

The smallest community in the nation with its own symphony orchestra is Kennett Square, Pennsylvania, (population 4,355).

The county of Chester grows about 60 percent of the nation's mushrooms.

Flagstaff Mountain Park, high on a ledge overlooking the town of Jim Thorpe, Pennsylvania, commands one of eastern America's outstanding panoramas.

Seeing Sights From A Ski Lift

TANNERSVILLE — The lure of a magnificent view is attracting people to the Pocono Mountain's largest ski resort during the warmth of summer months.

Camelback Ski Resort is operating its 2,900-foot double chair lift to haul tourists to the top of Big Pocono Mountain for a scenic view of the Poconos.

Vacationers who don't want to brave the cold of winter to ski at Camelback can now ride up and down the Poconos' highest mountain.

Picnic Tables

Anticipating a large turnout, the Camelback corporation, has installed picnic and barbecue tables near the base lodge.

Ken Nicoll, Camelback's resident manager, said climbing and play equipment has been set up for families with children.

He said a nine hole chip and putt golf course has been laid out and seeded and should be ready by the end of this month.

Alex Bensinger, a Camelback official, has said many vacationers have been visiting the resort on weekends and the trip to the top of the mountain is proving exciting, especially for children.

He said if business continues to increase Camelback will be able to expand its 25-man summer crew.

During the ski season more than 90 people are employed at the resort in Tannersville.

Expansion Program

Camelback recently announced plans for a $400,000 expansion of the $750,000 project in its first year of operation.

James Moore, president, said expansion plans include a second chair lift, two smaller lifts, new trails, a new beginners area, doubling the size of the base lodge, an enlarged parking area and more snow-making machinery.

Moore, a Philadelphia tax lawyer, said the 41,000 skiers who came to the ski area last winter "hopelessly overstrained" its starting capacity.

He also announced plans for skiing at night on Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays, a new nursery service and expansion of the Walter Foeger Natur Technik ski school next year.

Sandy McIlvaine, New York architect who specializes in ski resort building, has drawn plans for the expansion of the base lodge.

They will double the capacity of the cafeteria, ski rental and other facilities.

Moore called this a "giant step we will take this summer."

Walter Foeger described his novel plan for a separation of beginner, intermediate and expert skiers with the three main lifts.

New Chair Lift

The new chair lift, about 3,000 feet long, to the top of the mountain will be parallel and to the left of the present chair lift. It will be for beginners and will lead to a large new system of trails.

The present 2,900-foot chair lift will serve advanced and expert skiers, and the present 1,950-foot T-Bar will serve intermediate skiers.

Beginners will be able to ski by themselves on the present learners slope with a J-Bar and on the new beginners slope to be built on the left of the base ski lodge and parking lot.

Night Skiing

Moore said night skiing would begin next December on the T-Bar Interstate trail. If Wednesday night skiing is successful, other midweek nights may be scheduled for people in the Pocono and 50-mile area around.

Moore said the present three lifts have a "comfortable capacity" of 1,800 skiers per hour. He described "comfortable capacity" as waiting for a ride no more than 15 minutes.

The proposed three new lifts would raise the capacity to 3,200 skiers per hour on six lifts.

Parking Area

Parking space at the bottom of the mountain will be enlarged from 1,000 to 1,600 cars and snow-making capacity will be improved by an addition of 70 per cent to air compressor power and laying of new pipe to all trails.

Moore reported that Camelback's initial success had been achieved during poor winter weather.

The estimated 85 inches of natural snow was 20 inches more than fell. A 10 day thaw in January with heavy rains and another two-week thaw in March cut back skiing days considerably.

With all these plans made for next winter and a continued summer operation, Camelback should turn into one of the Poconos' finest year-round resorts.

First Settlers Were French

First Settlers in Monroe County came into the Shawnee Valley from Ulster County, N. Y., and were of French descent.

Leaving their home community, the small band worked their way along the Old Mine Road from Kingston on the Hudson to the Pahaquarry Copper Mines in Warren County, N. J. This occurred before 1700.

Topography Diversified

The Topography of the Poconos offers diversity and charm of the heavily forested terrain, plus limitless scenic attractions.

Beautiful mountain lakes, spectacular waterfalls, miles of woodland trout streams and an abundance of wild life.

Pennsylvania entered the Union December 12, 1787.

Fun-Filled Vacation Planned

By Jim Shafer
State Belt-West End Reporter
STROUDSBURG — "Come to the Poconos on your vacation and have fun."

This is one of the sentences in most resort advertisements and is one of the most truthful statements to be published.

Resorts have employed men and women who establish, plan and operate the social programs for resorts.

What do they do you ask?

Will, follow one of them around for just one day, participate in what they have planned and you can't help but have fun in the Poconos on a vacation or honeymoon.

Monday is the first day of events—most people register on Sunday. In the morning, along about 10 or 10:30 a.m., you can go to the archery range and receive first class instruction on the use of the bow and arrow.

In fact, you can spend the entire morning there shooting up a storm.

The afternoon is a real good one, full of laughs. This is the afternoon for the weekly softball game between the guys and the gals.

The social director calls all the guys together before the game and explains the rules to them.

Fix Is On

The rules go something like this.

1. The girls will win this game.
2. The girls will get as many outs as is needed for them to record a run in any one inning.
3. The girls will be given every chance to get on base even if the umpire has to make some new rule as the game progresses.

The guys, and the gals, really play their hearts out and the end result is a day that is remembered for many, many moons. Also remembered are the other people you have met.

The sun sets and the shades of night are drawn, but only to hear the announcement that tonight there will be a "Get Acquainted Party" and "Pizza Party."

This party comes after the Champagne Dinner.

Tuesday, at some of the resorts, the morning starts off with "Fun on the Ice." This is ice skating instructions for the non-skater, and just plain old-fashioned ice skating for those who have mastered the art of gliding across the slippery surface on the two runners of steel.

Of course, this starts in the morning somewhere between 10 and 10:30 a.m.

For those who don't want to skate there is hiking. This is much fun. The hike covers a distance of about one and one-half miles and during the walk in the woods there are many sights to see.

In addition to the sights mother nature has given us to see there are the funny sights along the way. For instance, at one resort the guests going on the hike are given a paper cup, "so when you get to the springs you can drink fresh mountain water." The springs turn out to be a rusty old pair of bed springs, but a little further down the trail water can be obtained from a cool, clear mountain spring.

Tuesday night is "Hot Dog Roast Night." Here the social director has a roaring fire with all the hot dogs, marshmallows, and other goodies. The nice part about this is that you have to roast your own, and this can be a great deal of fun.

The third day of your vacation is another day jammed-packed with things to do, but none of them start until after you've had a chance to get a full night's sleep.

For those who enjoy sitting on a steady mount and viewing the Poconos from the back of a horse there are many bridle paths. For those who are not too used to riding, rest spots dot the wayside. Volleyball games are popular too.

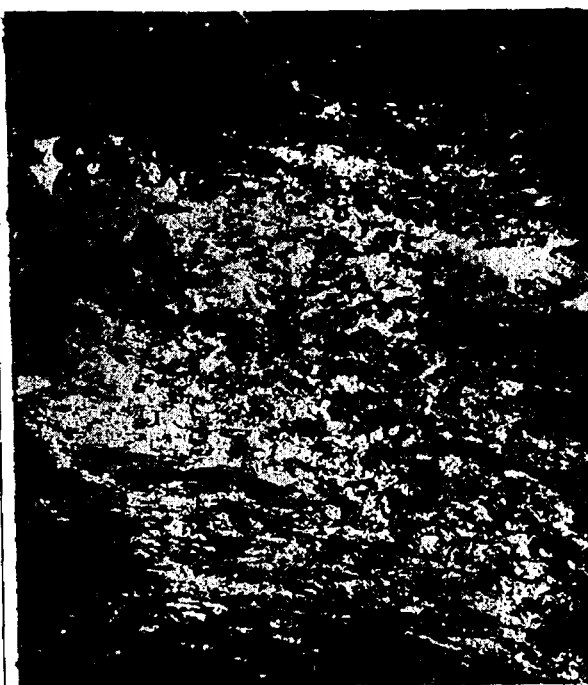

The afternoon is for the men's softball game. This is nothing like the guys and gals game. This one is played by the rules and the men are cheered on by their wives or girlfriends.

The night is for dancing. Perhaps it will be the night for the "Crazy Hat Dance." This is where the guests make hats from any material they want to or can find. The hats are judged and awards are presented for the funniest hat, the most original, the most stupid.

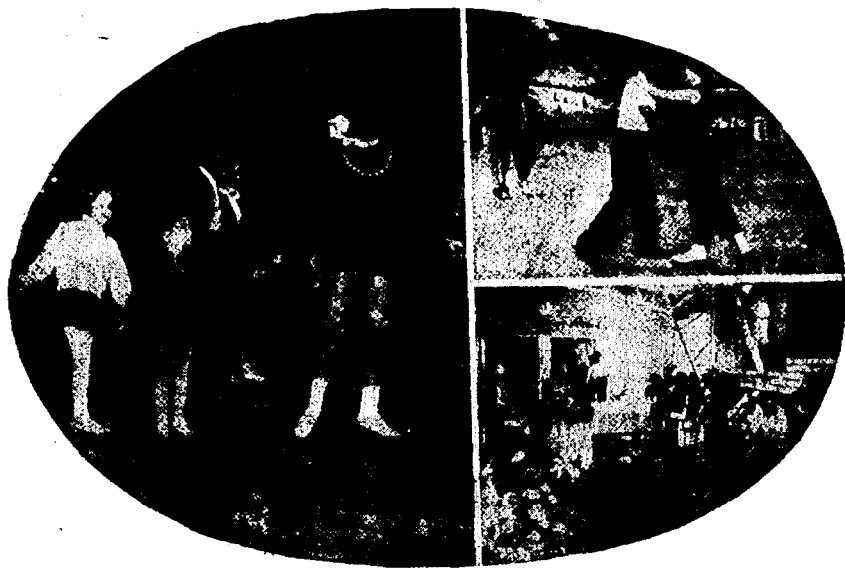

Thursday is the day of the shuffleboard tournament, a car tour of historic and interesting sights in the Pocono Mountains.

The night is capped with a full length movie, a splash party in the swimming pool (indoor pool of course).

Friday the fun of bowling on new alleys with automatic pin setters. All you have to do is roll the ball and keep the score.

ICE-A-RAMA

The modernistic rink is open all year and maintains perfect ice for skating winter or summer. Beginners as well as experienced skaters feel the pleasant atmosphere amidst the murmur of the snow clad Sierra Mountains and the relaxing warmth of the huge fireplace lends grace and charm. The spacious amusement center has a relaxing lounge and self contained snack bar with vending machines for refreshments. Numerous amusement games provide many hours of enjoyment while the teenagers dance to the latest tunes from the Seeburg Juke Box. Here the whole family can join in the fun and excitement of an ice skating party. Our skate shop has a complete variety of all your skating needs. # Over 200 Resorts Dot The Poconos

HORSEBACK RIDING—One of the most popular sports in the Pocono Mountains is horseback riding over wooded trails, farmland and in rings. Here two Eastern saddle riders pause at a creek to refresh their horses.

STROUDSBURG—More than 220 resorts throughout the Pocono Mountains are members of the Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau. The membership is fairly typical for area ranging from some of the most simple and inexpensive accommodations to luxury resorts with a full program of activities. Some are open only during the summer, others offer service on a year-around basis.

Among them are facilities which cater only to children, others desire only honeymooners as guests. Still others welcome the whole family and have special programs for children to keep them out from under their parents' feet while mom and pop live it up.

In addition to the resorts, more and more members are coming from operators of area tourist attractions, such as waterfalls and specialty shops and from restaurants.

Each year, the bureau publishes a brochure listing its members and giving brief descriptions of the facilities available. Interested parties are urged to direct their inquiries direct to the resort or facility.

Colorful Brochure

The colorful brochure proclaims: "Wherever you go in the Poconos, you will find good taste and a warm, friendly reception. The Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau, Inc., puts its seal of acceptance on the places mentioned in this guide."

Among its principal promotion efforts are the Laurel Blossom Festival in late spring or early summer and the Flaming Foliage Time in late summer and fall.

Each year colleges along the Eastern Seaboard are invited to enter a princess in the annual Laurel Blossom Queen contest.

For a week, the 20 or so princesses are winned and dined at various resorts throughout the area. Naturally, each newspaper published in an area where one of the girls lives or attends school is interested in her itinerary. And, as she moves from one resort to another, the names of these resorts are seen by more and more readers.

But even more important is the word of mouth advertising the girls themselves do when they return to their homes or colleges. It is certain that more than one person has decided upon a Poconon vacation after hearing one of the contestants praise the hospitality of the area.

The bureau annually allocates a generous portion of its budget for advertising, particularly in metropolitan papers in New York City, Philadelphia and New Jersey.

Information Booths

And, when the visitor reaches the Poconos, the bureau does not forget him or her. The bureau maintains two information booths, one at Delaware Water Gap and the other at Wind Gap, which can provide the casual visitor with complete information on area housing, eating and other facilities, complete with prices. The booths are staffed throughout the season.

The same service is provided at the bureau's headquarters at 1018 Main St., Stroudsburg.

The Poconos have been playing host to visitors from outside the area for more than a century. But the credit for much of the growth of the area as the resort capital of Pennsylvania in the past 15 years must go to the vacation bureau and dedicated individuals.

Five State Parks In Pocono Area

TOBYHANNA — Five area state parks are among the attractions which bring visitors to the Pocono Mountains area.

Tobyhanna State Park includes about 7,318 acres in Coolbaugh Township. While trails for hikers have not yet been developed, various fire roads traverse the area offering miles of opportunities to hiking enthusiasts.

A lake of 165 acres is open for fishing and boating, as well as swimming. There are boat concessions, a sand beach of about 600 feet in length, a bath house, toilets, picnic tables, fireplaces and a refreshment concession.

There is a day use area, as well as a tent and trailer area. Parking lots can accommodate up to 450 cars and the picnic area contains about 150 tables.

Gouldsboro State Park is located on the Wayne-Monroe County line and Gouldsboro Lake is also referred to as North Hersey Lake. The lake consists of 278 acres and an additional 47 acres of adjacent land was obtained in the original purchase.

18 Feet Maximum

The lake has a maximum depth of 18 feet, contains pickerel, bass, walleyed pike, sunfish, catfish, suckers and carp. The water supply comes from a small brook and several springs with a small tributary of the Lehigh River providing drainage.

Facilities include a large, modern bath house, three toilets, an 800-foot white sand beach, a 200-table picnic area, 75 metal fireplaces, five drilled wells, concession building, first aid station, boat launching ramp and parking area for 500 autos.

Hickory Run State Park, located in the western foothills of the Pocono Mountains, covers an area of about 15,000 acres.

The Caleb Pusey House, considered the oldest English-built home in Pennsylvania was constructed about 1683. Funds are being raised to restore and furnish the home as closely as possible to its colonial appearance. It is located near Chester.

One of its biggest attractions is the Boulder Field. Rocks varying in size from a basketball to as long as 25 feet were deposited by glacial action. The area covered totals 30 or more acres.

Facilities available include parking lots, picnic areas, pure water, toilets, concessions, 200 fireplaces and extensive camping areas. Swimming facilities are also provided.

Promised Land State Park is a natural forest recreational area located in Green Township, Pike County, 10 miles north of Canadensis.

It has extensive picnic and parking areas and toilet facilities are also provided. The park also has a large bathing beach with a modern bath house and a first aid station.

A cabin area is located near the picnic area and trails are marked for hikers throughout the area. Fishermen may try the south shore of the lake for pickerel, bass, sunfish and catfish.

George W. Childs State Park in Delaware Township, Pike County, three miles west of Dingmans Ferry, is named in honor of George W. Childs, former editor and publisher of the Philadelphia Public Ledger. The land was deeded to the state in 1912 by his widow, Emma B. Childs.

154 Acres

The property contains 154 acres, 52 in the original deed and 102 added in 1956 in a purchase from the Brooks estate. Trails in the park have been improved and a footbridge was added recently.

A new maintenance building is now under construction. Facilities include picnicking and fishing. Toilet facilities are available with two new ones being added in the past few years.

A series of three waterfalls are the main attractions. The park also contains the ruins of an old woolen mill.

Camping fees at parks having these facilities are $1 for the first day and 50 cents for each additional day. Charges for other facilities used—such as cabins and laundry facilities—may be obtained from park officials.

Culture Offered In Poconos

STROUDSBURG — Birds give free concerts every morning. The Pocono Mountains present living landscapes that change with every passing cloud and lengthening shadow, but for those who like their culture in more formal arrangements, the Poconos are glad to oblige, too.

One of the newest of the cultural offerings is the dedicatory concert by the Philadelphia Orchestra under the direction of Eugene Ormandy to be held Aug. 11 and 12 at the new Pocono Art Center on Mount Nebo above Shawnee-on-Delaware.

What is being dedicated is the proposed Pavilion which its sponsors expect to become another Tanglewood. Henry Peltier, former manager of the Philadelphia Orchestra, is directing the activities of The Pavilion which will seat 6,000 persons. He plans to build up a whole Summer Festival of music, ballet and opera.

This year the Philadelphia Symphony concert is the first definite commitment and is a "rain or shine" must.

Oldest and best known of the art exhibits are the Outdoor Art Shows sponsored by the Pocono Art Group which are held from dawn to dusk in the Courthouse Square in Stroudsburg, spilling over into the side streets.

Dates for this year's shows are Fridays and Saturdays, July 10 and 11 and August 21 and 22.

Newest venture in the art field are the changing art shows in the old railroad station in East Stroudsburg.

Oldest and best known of the professional theatres in the area is Rowena Stevens Pocono Playhouse with "name" stars which draw "regulars" from many surrounding cities. The Cherry Lane Playhouse now in its third season will again offer musicals.

Crafts are considered cultural, too, with the Pennsylvania Guild of Craftsmen's fair held in late July in the gymnasium at East Stroudsburg State College.

The college gymnasium is also the setting for the annual Pocono Mountains Antiques Show which this year will be held Aug. 6, 7 and 8 for the benefit of the General Hospital of Monroe County.

Fishermen's Paradise In Monroe

STRODSBURG —Traditionally, the Pocono Mountains in Monroe County are noted for fine fishing.

This does not happen by chance. More than 61,000 fish were stocked last year in the counties 114 miles of stream and two trout lakes totaling 13 and a half acres. These fish included a variety of brook, brown, and rainbow trout, Jim Hazen, Monroe County's Fish Warden, reports.

Hazen said, June 20, the first day of bass season, Tobyhanna State Park will be open for fishing.

He pointed out that last October, 1,000 adult bass ranging in size from 10 to 12 inches; 10,000 bass fingerlings, three inches; 20,000 catfish, from nine to 13 inches; 15 pickerel from 15 to 18 inches; 100,000 minnows; 50 calico bass; several hundred perch, and about 1,000 blue gills were stocked.

He added, Tobyhanna is a properly balanced fishing lake. Bass also have been stocked in Gouldsboro Lake about 25 miles north of Stroudsburg off Rt. 611.

Other areas in Monroe County which are open for fishing include the following:

Open Streams

Streams open to fishing in Monroe County are:

In Brodheads Creek one can catch brook and rainbow trout. The stream is open for ten miles from the mouth of the creek at the Delaware River upstream to Analomink.

There are seven tributaries to the Brodheads Creek, all good trout streams. They are the McMichaels Creek from Stroudsburg upstream three miles to the country club, by-pass the club, Hickory Valley and Pomeroy farms near Kellersville, then the creek is open for two and one-half miles to Sciota except Judge Rhodes' property.

The Pennsylv or Appenzell Creek is another tributary where the trout fisherman can have a good day. It is open from Snyder'sville to Camp Akiba, a distance of seven miles.

Lake Creek is open for four miles from Saylorsburg upstream.

The Middle Branch of Brodheads Creek at Canadensis and upstream for three miles is open. Goose Pond Run from Canadensis upstream for two miles from the Candle Shop is also open.

Pocono Creek

Another tributary that abounds with trout is the Pocono Creek. This stream is open from Stroudsburg upstream for three miles to the Tanite Dam and then five and one-half miles upstream to Bartonsville except at the Wilkie property then on to State Game Lands 38.

Scotrun is also open to trout fishermen from Tannersville upstream for three miles to the Village of Scotrun.

Snow Hill Dam is a good place to catch your limit of rainbow trout. It is located in the Delaware District State Park. To get there travel north from Stroudsburg on Route 90 to Analomink then to Route 290 until you see the sign pointing to Snow Hill.

Big Bushkill Creek is a good water to catch brown trout. It is open from its mouth at the Delaware River upstream for nine miles except for small nursery water at Resica Falls.

"Fly fishing" is allowed in this area except for a distance of 200 yards on each side of the Boy Scout Camp here. This area is reached by traveling east on 209 to Marshalls Creek and then north on Route 402 to the scout camp.

Good For Browns

Devil's Hole Creek is also good water for brown trout. It is open for three miles, including the B. K. Williams property upstream to State Game Land 221. To travel here by car take Route 191 out of Stroudsburg or East Stroudsburg and go north to Paradise Valley and then bear left to Blackwell's Garage where a tourist information stand is located and further direction may be obtained.

Deep Lake on State Game Land 86 is another good spot to catch brook trout. Bait fish dead or alive are prohibited in this area. To travel here take Route 611 to Tannersville then bear left across Pocono Creek and then right on Legislative Route 45024. A quick stop at Gray's Garage in Tannersville will give you a chance for directions if the driver is in doubt.

The Lehigh River is a good place for the brown and rainbow fisherman. It is open for 12 miles from Stoddardsville to Route 611 crossing near Ellis Corners, Route 115 crossing at Stoddardsville, Route 940 at White Haven.

Tobyhanna Creek joins near Stoddardsville and is open for five miles from Tobyhanna, Route 611, to Warnertown, Route 940. It is also open for four miles from the ice company dam at Warnertown downstream to Pocono Lake Preserve. There are several other short sections open and a quick stop at any gas station on Route 940 or Legislative Route 45037 will give you the information you will need to find them.

Other Streams

Aquashicola Creek, - in south western Monroe County, joins the Lehigh River near Palmerton and is open for nine miles from Saylorsburg to Little Gap at the Carbon County line. Take Route 115 from Brodheads to Little Gap or Route 904 to Kunkletown.

Buckwa Creek, also in the west end of Monroe County, is open water for 12 miles from Saylorsburg to Little Gap. A good stream for the brook trout.

Princess Creek joins the Buckwa at Kunkletown and is open upstream for six miles to Meixell Valley on Route 904.

Pohopoco Creek, with its tributaries, joins the Lehigh River and is open from the Monroe-Carbon County line upstream for 11 miles towards the village of Gilbert. Take Route 209 to Gilbert and then Route 904 south.

Middle Creek, also in the west end of the county, is open for three miles from Route 209 to Jonas, on Route 100.

Dotlers or Little Creek is open for six miles upstream from Kresgeville to Jonas.

Pike County

Pike County has 10 streams that are very good waters for the visiting trout fisherman as well as for the local fisherman. Streams in the county open to fishing are:

Delaware River where rainbow, brook and brown trout can be caught. Float trips can be arranged in Milford. Fishermen have recorded nice catches at the mouths of tributaries at Raymondskill, Egypt Mills, Bushkill, Dingmans, Mildrift, Shohola, Sawkill, Lackawaxen, Pond Eddy and vicinity of under-river springs.

Lackawaxen Creek is open for 12 miles from its mouth at the Delaware River upstream to the Pike-Wayne County line. To fish here head for Hawley then Route 590 to the tow path road along the stream or Route 6 to Greely Corners and on to the village of Lackawaxen.

Kellam Brook is open for four miles from its headwaters, near Grumble Hatchery on Route 390 to the mouth of Lake Wallenpaupack.

Taylor's Creek or Middle Branch Creek is open from its confluence with Big Bushkill at Pine Flats upstream three miles to Beaver Forest. Take Route 402 to Pine Flats road near Porter's Lake Club.

Saw Creek, a tributary to Big Bushkill at Bushkill, is not open to the public at Bushkill, but is open for three miles from Legislative Route 51031 near Porter's Lake Club to one-half mile above Saw Creek Club. Take Route 402 to Hunters Range to Legislative Rt. 51031.

Lake Wallenpaupack

Wallenpaupack Lake is a lake covering 5,700 acres and offers a real challenge to the trout fisherman. From Stroudsburg take Route 209 east to Marshalls Creek and then left on 402 to the lake.

Mildrift Brook is open from the Delaware River upstream for three miles to the Oberwager property then upstream to the headwaters, which flow through the Delaware State Forest. Take Routes 6-209 to Matamoras then Delaware River Road to Millrift.

Red Rock Run is open to fishing for three miles from its mouth below Saw Creek Club upstream to posted property. Take Route 209 to Marshalls Creek and then 402 to Hunters Range, cross Saw Creek and park. From here to creek you will have to walk as the road is not passable.

Little Bushkill Creek has two open stretches separated by a closed private holding. The lower opening is two and one-half miles from the mouth of the stream to Pond Run. The upper section is open for two miles from the lower limit of Lehman Lake Club to the upper limit of Bushkill Rod and Gun Club. Inquire in Bushkill for directions to the areas.

Golf In Poconos--Bigger, Better

STROUDSBURG—"Fore!"

That's the byword in the Poconos during the summer months. Every year, more and more golfers—ranging from the weekday hackers to the weekend duffers—enjoy the Pocono links.

Nearly all are amateurs. But many pros also are attracted.

There are tournaments galore, annually including Jackie Gleason at Shawnee and Danny Kaye at Tanniment.

The Pocono golf courses added even more lustre to both prestige this year when Glen Brook Country Club was host to both the District 11 high school golf tournament and the Pennsylvania State Colleges tourney on successive days.

Pocono Golf

Bigger, better and even more beautiful golf attractions are offered by the Poconos this year.

From the duffer to the scratch player the Poconos offer more than 30 courses, including eight layouts in true championship form which are capable of holding any professional event. Other area courses range in length from a 2-200 nine-hole layout to the 7,200-yard (back tees) course.

Pro Paul Patten has begun his fourth year at Glen Brook's championship course which measures 6,508 yards and is the only par 73 course in the area. Its 16th hole, 150-yard par three, is one of the toughest in these parts. John Kuppice is the teaching pro.

Shawnee Country Club, of course, is one of the top golf spots in the East. Owned by internationally-famous Fred Waring, it is located along the banks of the Delaware and has been in existence since 1911. Under Waring's guiding hand, the recent years have been a consistent program of development and is recognized today as the "Golf Capitol of the East."

New Layout

A new "White nine" was installed last year, joining the Red and Blue layouts for a 27-hole course.

White birches lie behind all the greens on the white nine; red crabapple trees designate 150-yard distances from all greens on the Red, and Blue Spruce trees designate the same distances along the Blue nine.

Par is 72 on any combination of 18 holes.

Bill Boorman of Pine Crest Country Club, Longview, Tex., succeeds Jack Cuttle, head golf pro, and Art Bill Livingston is the new greenskeeper. Paul C. Grant remains an inn keeper.

Shawnee is the home of the 1938 PGA championship and the 1961 Arnold Palmer - Jackie Gleason match in Sunday Sports Spectacular. Gleason is a frequent visitor to Shawnee along with other celebrities such as Hoagy Carmichael who appeared in a match last year.

Cuttle And Wall

The 18-hole championship golf course at Pocono Manor Inn remains under the supervision of Jack Cuttle, head golf pro, and Art Wall, Jr., tournament pro who played brilliantly this year in the Caribbean tour. He also competed in this year's Masters tournament once again.

Pocono Manor is some 1,800 feet high in the Poconos and Wall is the 1939 PGA "Golf of the Year." He also holds the Manor course record of 63. Cuttle has been stationed at the Manor for the past 39 years.

The Manor is located 15 miles north of Stroudsburg.

Tough Tanniment

Tanniment's golf course, designed by Robert Trent Jones, earns the title of the toughest challenge in the area. Located 12 miles from Stroudsburg, it cost more than $750,000 to build. From three Tanniment-in-the-Poconos holes it is possible to see 20 miles in any direction.

Tanniment also is the home of Danny Kaye Pro-Am Tournament.

The 17th hole on the course, two years in the making, was opened two seasons ago. Cost was estimated at $30,000 for construction.

Veteran Ray Lambert heads the golf fortunes at Mountain Manor Inn along Rt. 209 at Marshalls Creek and is one of the most-played courses in the area. Lambert is a senior PGA member. The course features a layout of 27 holes with nine of them a par-three set-up.

Pocono Birthplace

The Inn at Buck Hill also is the birthplace of Pocono golf. The first round was played there in 1909 about seven years after its construction had begun. Ted Beadle is entering his 19th year on the Hill. Harry Drennan, golf manager, starts his 43rd season.

Harold Calloway is the head of Skytop, which was founded in 1928. It rarely allows outside play, however, reserving its course for some 3,000 members and resort guests. At Vacation Valley, free golf lessons are given to guests who stay a week and pay a week's $7 greens fees. The Vacation Valley course is 3,000 yards long and includes a 580-yard seventh hole.

Mt. Pocono Golf Course in Mt. Pocono is a regulation nine-hole layout which is located next to High Point Inn. Caddy carts and clubs may be rented and golf equipment also may be purchased in the pro shop.

Nine-Hole Course

Blue Mountain Golf Course, located a half-mile east of Saylor's Lake, is owned and operated by Bert and Grant Knowles. It has a challenging nine-hole regulation course, with natural obstacles. A complete golf shop is maintained on the premises.

Indian Mountain Golf Course, a public course, located in Kresgeville, is often referred to as "the public's country club." It offers 3,200 yards of scenic beauty. The greens on this course in the western Poconos have been improved and is one to challenge any golfer.

At Tannersville is The Randall's Woodmont Lodge and Golf Course. The nine-hole layout is a fairly rugged challenging course.

Fernwood has a nine-hole course and is located on Rt. 209 east of East Stroudsburg.

Vance Megargel, Jr., who also owns Indian Mountain Golf Course, is head of Wiscasset, too, which is located a mile-and-a-half south of Mt. Pocono on Rt. 611 and has proven popular with visitors and home golfers alike.

The Megargel circuit of courses now stands at nine nine-hole layouts located in Cresco, Mt. Pocono, Bartonsville, Pocono Lake, Blakeslee, Wind Gap, Shohola, Northumberland and Sunbury.

Water Gap Country Club (Wolf Hollow) is a private club, although arrangements may be made to play the course. It is the home of the 1927 and '28 Eastern Opens. Sam Kinder is the pro.

Other public courses are Mount Pocono Golf and Bush's Golf Course.

Game Plentiful In 60,000 Acres

STROUDSBURG—A total of 60,000 acres of game land is located in the Poconos supporting the large number of game in Monroe County.

Unhappily for summer hunters of the bigger game, however, most of the open seasons don't begin until fall.

Visitors to the Poconos this summer will have to be content with fox, woodchuck, red squirrel and birds, and even then not on Sundays.

For those who stick around this year there will be a small game season. The small game includes ringneck pheasants, rabbit, squirrels, wild turkey, bobwhite, quail and grouse.

The Game Commission now runs over 60,000 acres of "Game Land" owned by the state in the Poconos.

60,000-Plus Acres

It produces an annual crop for hunters of eastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York.

Local game protectors expect a bumper crop and a good kill of all game on these lands if the weather is favorable.

The land, controlled by the commission, is open to the general public for hunting purposes. The commission also continues to seek more areas to increase the acreage of game lands to meet the needs of an ever-expanding population.

8th Wonder Of World At Gap

DELAWARE WATER GAP — Known as the eighth wonder of the world and located just south of this town is the famous Delaware Water Gap.

History and legend show that long before white man set foot in this section of the country the mountain formed a dam for a lake and then a waterfall.

After many thousands of years the water wore away the rock of the mountain and formed Delaware Water Gap. A work of nature that has been viewed down through the years by millions of tourists coming to the Poconos on vacations and by those just out on a Sunday drive.

Beauty Spots

From the gorge of the Delaware Water Gap to the plateau of the Pocono Mountains hundreds of beauty spots abound for the sight-seer and the party wanting to go on a picnic.

At the Point of the Gap, on the southern side, there are picnic tables available. Located here too is a lookout to the profile of Chief Kittatinny on the mountainside of the New Jersey side of the gap.

On the New Jersey side of the gap there is a beach and picnic area also available to tourists.

There are several lookout points on the Pennsylvania side that afford a beautiful view of the gap both to the north and to the south.

Lookout Points

These lookout points may be reached by motoring to the Borough of Delaware Water Gap on Rt. 611 and at Deer Head Inn make a right turn, if traveling south from Stroudsburg, or a left turn if traveling north. This will take you to Lake Lenape and signs along the way will point to the lookout.

In the early 1930s Rt. 611 was constructed through the gap at a cost of more $1,000,000 and was the first road in highway. Some of the residents of the area at that time referred to the highway as "The Gateway to the Poconos". The name has continued to be carried to present day use.

Several years ago the states of Pennsylvania and New Jersey constructed an alternate Rt. 611 on the New Jersey side. The purpose of the new road was many fold but to the area, and to vacations it affords another beautiful view of the Delaware Water Gap.

Pennsylvania State Flower is mountain laurel.

Pennsylvania State Tree is hemlock.

Pennsylvania State Bird is ruffed grouse.

Pennsylvania's nickname is the Keystone State.

Pennsylvania has an area of 45,333 square miles.

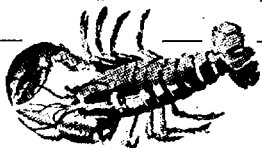

NOT ALL PLAY—It's not all summer fun in the Poconos. Here two coeds attend summer classes at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

MILFORD—Hundreds of resorts, catering to every taste and pocketbook, have been developed in the past 50 years in Pike County, sometimes referred to as the heart of Pennsylvania's $100 million resort industry.

To the north and east of Monroe County, Pike County contains camps for children's vacations, honeymoon cottages and resorts for families.

A system of State Parks, planned and administered by the State Dept. of Forests and Waters and stocked by the State Fish Commission also attracts many visitors.

The Pocono Mountains cover all of Pike County and spread south into Monroe County.

A high mountain plateau, ranging in elevation from 1,500 to 2,215 feet above sea level, the basic land pattern of the Poconos is dotted with lakes, streams and waterfalls and covered with forests. It provides excellent facilities for hunting and fishing as well as vacation.

Early in its growth, the state government realized the Poconos should be free for all to enjoy, not reserved for those who stay at a particular lodge or hotel.

The Commonwealth began a systematic program of obtaining control of the most picturesque views in the state.

Big Pocono

Among these are Big Pocono
State Park. It combines picnic areas with one of the most picturesque views in Pennsylvania. From an elevation of 2,130 feet, the farmlands, homes, lakes and wooded mountains spread toward the horizon.

The 1,300-acre tract has two parking areas, picnic tables, fireplaces, a refreshment stand, and about 10 miles of foot and horse trails.

Tobyhanna State Park opened nine years ago, offers even more diverse facilities. Although the park contains approximately 7,320 acres, only a fraction of this amount has been developed.

Formal hiking trails have not been constructed, but the hearty vacationer will find many miles of enjoyment on the many fire roads and ancient timber trails travers-ing the area.

For water sports and fishing, there is a 165-acre lake with a 600 foot long sandy beach. Picnic areas and fireplaces have also been built.

One of the finest fishing spots is Gouldsboro Lake—278 acres of public fishing water, well stocked by the state. Facilities include parking space for 450 cars, 200 picnic tables, 80 fireplaces, an 800-ft.
bathing beach and a boat house and 150-foot boat dock.

On a much smaller scale is Snow Hill Lake, only three acres small, but well stocked with trout, and also known for catfish and sunfish.

Small Scale

The small-scale park has 15 fireplaces, about two-dozen picnic tables, deep-well water, a 20 by 20 foot shelter, and seclusion.

Rated as the most picturesque park in Pennsylvania, Childs State

Forest contains a wooded glen and gorge, plus three individual waterfalls.

Previous history gives this park an added attraction—here was located one of the first industries in this section of the state, and foundations of the ancient tannery and woolen mill can still be seen.

The park includes several miles of hiking trails and a unique swimming basin carved out of rock by thousands of years of tumbling water.

Promised Land

On the other side of the state park picture is Promised Land, a 420 acre lake and a site that includes parking and picnic areas, rustic cabins with electric lights, refrigerators, and open fireplaces, running water at the cabin door, and a bathing beach with life guards — all the conveniences of home.

Gateway

But the too urban picture, with its concession stands and souvenirs and mementos is only at the gateway. Behind this area are 50-miles of rugged hiking trails, a natural glacial body of water known as Bryce Lake. There is also Egypt
Meadow Lake and Balsam Swamp for nature lovers to explore.

Bear Wallow and Klein Trails lead to a virgin forest, Spruce-Balsam-Hamarack Swamps abound with birds of every description and beaver colonies.

Besides experiencing the wonderful scenery and activities of outdoor Poconos, vacationers are also rewarded with the finest atmosphere and climate on the east coast.

Official U. S. weather reports show the Poconos possess the driest air east of the Rockies, and enjoy the Maine. Averaging 80 per cent clear weather during the summer, the Pocono nights are usually cool, while the days are sunny and temperate.

Animal Farm Different Type Zoo

STROUDSBURG — For a zoo with a real difference, the Pocono Wild Animal Farm is a top attraction of the Poconos.

Established by a lifelong scientist, the farm is almost a zoo in reverse. The visitor goes into the caged portion of the farm with the tame wild animals.

There, he can walk around with deer, sheep, a llama, goats, and donkeys. While walking, he can see the caged animals, such as bear, bison, a camel, an elk, monkeys and baboons, alpacas, types of rabbits, Emus, peacocks, foreign sheep, mountain goats, kangaroos and muntjacs.

The farm is on top of Foxtown
Hill, on alternate 611, just southeast of Stroudsburg.

It's great for kids—and grown-ups too.

The real attraction of the farm, though, is the ability of the visitor to pet and touch the deer and other animals.

This year a bird sanctuary has been opened at the installation, dedicated to the memory of Claude Leister, the scientist who founded the farm in 1948.

Golden Sax Lures Swingers

STROUDSBURG — The Golden Sax means swinging music to most of the Poconos.

It's operated by Amato Altieri, from a family of musicians in the region. Altieri plays saxophone and is often joined by Ernie Manners, first alto sax in the Jackie Gleason band.

It's one of the bright spots in the region for music, and is known as the place "where the crowds go."

Besides the music, the Golden Sax offers real Italian spaghetti, steaks, chops, pizza, and sandwiches for snacks.

Long known as a hub of activity for local musicians, the Golden Sax has also been a hub for people looking for good entertainment.

The Pennsylvania Dutch community of Littleton each Fourth of July celebrates the Fairyland of Candles, the most unique Independence Day observance in the nation.

Lore Galore For Buffs Of History

STROUDSBURG — Admittedly most vacationists are more on the look out for route markers than historical markers, but historical buffs can have a heyday with the roadside markers erected throughout this historical region by the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission.

They could, for instance intersect the route of Sullivan's March which left Easton on June 18, 1779 to attack the hostile Iroquois Indians responsible for the Wyoming Massacre. In Monroe County its route is marked at three places:

At Sciota on U. S. 209, Brinker's Mill marked the storehouse and advance post for the expedition.

At Tannersville, on U. S. 611, Leamed's Tavern marked the end of the second day's march from Easton to Fort Wyoming at Wilkes-Barre. Here the army camped on June 19, 1779 after a 16-mile march from Heller's Tavern.

The Hungry Hill Monument, near Rt. 940 at Pocono Pines, marks the location where the Expedition encountered difficulty on penetrating the deep pine forests and rhododendron in the woodlands on the mountain top. Several members of the force lost their lives and are buried here.

Four Frontier Posts

Monroe County was also the site of four frontier forts, whose locations are marked:

Two of these forts are within Stroudsburg itself. Fort Penn, built by Jacob Stroud and others in 1776 was a refuge from the fugitives from the Wyoming Massacre in 1778 and was the militia headquarters for defense against Indian attack. Fort Hamilton predated it, having been built in 1756 by the Province of Pennsylvania and garrisoned during the French and Indian War. Both are on U. S. Route 209 in Stroudsburg.

Fort Hindshaw, U. S. 209 south of Bushkill, and Fort Norris U. S. 209 at Kresgeville were of the same vintage as Fort Hamilton, built by the Province of Pennsylvania as frontier defenses during the French and Indian War.

In East Stroudsburg, the home of its founder, Daniel Brodhead, is marked where the General Hospital of Monroe County now stands. Brodhead settled here about 1738 and the town was called Dansbury in his honor. He lived here until 1755, and his son, Daniel, became a Revolutionary War Leader and later the State Surveyor General. Dansbury Mission on lower Main St. in Stroudsburg was founded by Brodhead for use by Moravian Missions and was destroyed by Indians in 1755 during the French and Indian War.

Not All War-Like

Not all of the markers are so warlike. On the oldest road in Monroe County, legislative Route 45012 west of Shawnee, there is a marker to the Dutch Settlers who came here before William Penn came to Philadelphia. They came down the Old Mine road from the Hudson to the Delaware Crossing at Walpack Bend, they used this road.

On the same road is the marker for the Smithfield Church, one of a group of four early Dutch Reformed churches founded by pioneer settlers, it was the only one in Pennsylvania and was in use about 1741 to 51.

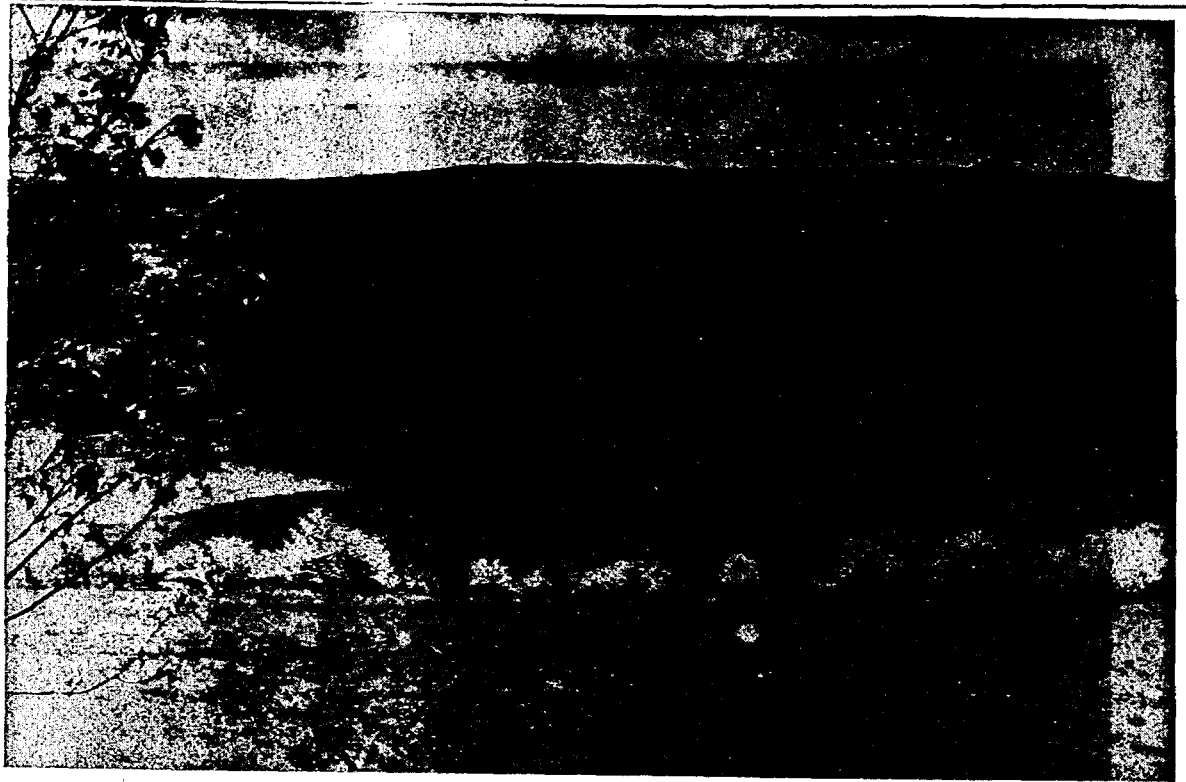

Also near Shawnee, on Legislative Route 50412, is a marker to Nicholas DePue, first known settler in this region in 1727. His home, stockaded and garrisoned became the Fort DePue of the French and Indian War.

Dingmans Ferry

Dingmans Ferry, at Dingmans Ferry on U. S. 209, is marked where in 1750 with his own hand axe, Andrew Dingman built the flatboat which was to serve as the earliest ferry to regularly cross the Delaware River.

Wallenpaupack, on U. S. 6 at Lake Wallenpaupack is the site of one of the earliest settlements in the northern Poconos and was the scene of a virtually independent government made up of early Connecticut claimants who built a fort here in 1773. The old Indian trail from Chochection to Wyoming passed nearby.

Maps and additional points of interest in the Poconos can be obtained by writing to John E. Calhoun, executive secretary, Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau, 1004 Main St., Stroudsburg.

KITTATINNY LANDSCAPE—The Pocono Mountains are blessed with landscape panoramas from almost any spot. This view of the Kittatinny Mountain range is from a mountain above Shawnee-on-Delaware. The Appalachian Trail follows the ridge of the Kittatinny Mountain and parallels the Delaware River below.

Trout Streams Lure Fishermen

One of the most difficult problems to solve for the man with the rod and reel is where to fish.

But there's no problem now. Here is a rundown on the trout fishing in the Pocono area:

Brodheads Creek: Brown, brook and rainbow. Open for ten miles from mouth of Delaware River upstream to Analomink. (1) McMichael's Creek (rainbow and brown), Stroudsburg, upstream three miles to country club, bypass club, Hickory Valley and Pomeroy farms near Kellersville, then open two and one-half miles to Sciota except bypass Judge Rhodes' property. Stroudsburg routes 611 or 209; upper portion, Snyder'sville and 209; (1a) Pennsylv or Appenzell Creek (brook), Snyder'sville, seven miles upstream to Camp Akiba near Appenzell village — route 172; (1b) Lake Creek: (brook) Saylor'sburg, upstream; four miles to Sciota—route 209; (2) Middle Br. Brodheads Creek (brook, brown), Canadensis — route 390; upstream three miles; (2a) Goose Pond Run (brook), Canadensis, upstream two miles to Candle Shop — route 390; (3) Pocono Creek (brook, brown) — near Stroudsburg, upstream three miles to Tanite Dam — routes 209 and 611, also open five and one-half miles Bartonsville upstream to Wilkie property, bypass then through State Game Lands No. 38; (3a) Scotrun (brook), Tannersville, upstream three miles to Scotrun (town), route 611 crosses.

Snow Hill Dam: Rainbow. About 3 acres in Delaware District State Forest. Route 191 from Stroudsburg then Analomink and Creek Road or Route 290 to south of Canadensis then right two miles. Look for signs.

Big Bushkill Creek: Brown. Open for nine miles from mouth of Delaware River in village of Bushkill upstream to Monroe-Pike County line except for small nursery water section at Resica Falls. "Fly fishing only" regulations apply for six miles at Resica except 200 yards each side of Boy Scout camp is closed to fishing. For regulations see "Fly Fishing Only" elsewhere in Trout Directory. Route 402 crosses stream at Resica Falls. For the special stretch anglers must register at Boy Scout office and obtain card good for season. Fishing hours 5 a.m. to 9 p.m. (EST).

Devil's Hole Creek: Brown, open for three miles, including B. K. Williams' property upstream of State Game Lands No. 221 Route 191, bear left at Paradise Valley and inquire at Blackwell's Garage for directions. Stop, Look, Listen at RR crossing — dangerous.

Deep Lake: Brook. On State Game Lands No. 86. Reclaimed and bait fish dead or alive, prohibited for use or in possession. Route 611, then LR 45024 to Big Pocono Park. A walk-in.

Two trout tributaries. (1) Middle Creek (brook), Kresgeville — Route 209, upstream three miles to Jonas — Route 100; (1a) Dotters or Little Creek (brook). Kresgeville upstream six miles to Jonas.

BEST: Brodhead, Stokes Mill upstream to Analomink.

Delaware River: Brook, brown and rainbows. Float trips can be arranged in Milford. Some nice trout near mouths of tributary trout Egypt Mills, Bushkill, Dingmans, Wallenpaupack Lake. This body of water (5,700 acres) contains some large brown and rainbow, and among hardest to catch. Route 507, 6 and 590. Good sucker fishing at upper end of lake in spring.

Little Bushkill Creek: Brook. Two open stretches separated by closed private holding. Lower area open for two and one-half miles from mouth at Big Bushkill in Bushkill up to Pond Run. Turn at Bushkill and follow Legislative Route 5101 to 51031; stream at left going in northern direction. Upper section open for two miles from lower limit of Lehman Lake Club to upper limit of Bushkill Rod and Gun Club.

RIGHT IN WITH THE ANIMALS — When visiting in the Poconos be sure to visit the Wild Animal Farm near Stroudsburg. Here the visitors walk around with the animals. Deer, Llama and many other animals come right up to you in search for food. They eat from your hand and follow you around for more food.

The State of Pennsylvania was so named in honor of Admiral Sir William Penn, father of William Penn. It means "Penn's Woodland".

Pennsylvania was discovered in 1609 by Hudson.

Pennsylvania has 67 counties. Leading products of Pennsylvania are metals, coal, machinery, textiles, food and metal manufacturing.

The Indiana area has one of the largest concentrations of Christmas tree nurseries in the world. The town is known as the "Christmas Tree Capital of the Nation".

Canadensis Bustles In Summer

By PAT WILLIAMS
Record Correspondent

CANADENSIS—What began as the site of a town built around the tanning industry has now become a full-fledged resort area.

Notable in the growth of the area is the crossroads, where the post office at one time was marked by a misspelled sign, "Cananden-sis." This has become, during the Summer season, a bustling little town.

The name, Canadensis, is taken from the Latin name for the hemlock trees which were the basis for the tanning industry nearly 100 years ago. Bark from the trees was used for the tannic acid content. Now, the trees are used as decoration rather than commercialization.

Street Lights
Another improvement in Barrett Township, with a population of more than 2,600 will be the appearance of street lights during the coming months. A survey set the sites for 20 lights to be installed where supervisors felt they would contribute to highway safety of residents and visitors.

The traffic light at the crossroads, which used to operate as a blinker light for seven months of the year, has become a year-round traffic light, attesting to the influx of visitors-turned-residents.

"High Acres" a site of more than nine acres, north of Canadensis on Route 290, offers picnic benches and fireplaces for eating out in the open. A dirt road into the property and parking space has been cleared. Broad sections of the site are open for impromptu baseball games and children's activities.

Views unroll past car windows with regularity on township roads. Being high in the Poconos, Barrett Township affords a view of the famous Delaware Water Gap and during the Summer is ringed by purple mountains from any site.

Scenic Roads
There is no scenic route as such in the area. All roads are scenic as well as being direct. Numerous spots to park at the roadside to enjoy a view are shaded by trees or serenaded by busy brooks.

Resorts, entertainment and shops are convenient to the traveler. For visitors, special events mark the calendar. In August, the annual Mountainhome Methodist Church Antique Show will be held for two days. Antique shopowners from three states convene to show their wares and enthusiasts make note of the date for a one-stop browsing session.

Carnival time, with civic and service organizations providing manpower, brings tents and rides to the field in Mountainhome on Route 390. The carnival excitement lasts a full week.

Also in Mountainhome, the Barrett Branch YMCA handles a Summer schedule for the small fry and plans are in the works for a day-camp session.

Cresco is a name well-known to Erie-Lackawanna Railroad riders. Listed on the timetable is the arrival time of vacation trains to Cresco station where a taxi or limousine takes visitors to their respective resorts, hotels or motels.

Fishermen's Paradise
Veined with creeks, the Brodheads, Goose Pond Run and Levitt's Branch, Barrett draws fishermen to try for the trout that have no scales and lots of taste. Quiet pools of water form hiding places for the big ones that somehow "got away" last year.

The same sound of water heralds bathing suits and towels as the summer sun warms a favorite swimming spot in a nearby creek or the splashing of children in a pool or lake.

Indoor swimming pools, outdoor swimming pools, lakes and broad sections of creeks are surrounded by people interested in a swim, a tan or just relaxing.

At dusk lights snap on and entertainment of various types can be found nearby. Movies or cards for those who wish to relax, round dancing for special occasions and square dancing for fun.

Golf courses spread over the rolling terrain for amateurs to try or for tournament play. Driving ranges to cure a hook or slice can be found, all with yard markers to prove that a 350-yard drive is possible. Miniature golf courses or pitch and putt courses provide variety.

At night, some of the lights may be car headlights reflected in the eyes of a deer out for a stroll. The deer-crossing signs are serious although deer can't read. By study of the ground, on either side of the road, a path used by deer and sometimes other smaller animals is found, and the sign erected.

At these crossings, sharp eyes can detect the movement of the real natives of this area, the white-tailed deer, accompanied by other local residents out for an evening stroll.

Arrowhead Lakefront Developing

Arrowhead Lake, the famous Walter R. Bobins Pocono estate and lake front lodge "Mansion" has been purchased by All American Realty Co., Inc., Hackensack, New Jersey.

The new owners are now developing this property which comprises a bout 520 acres and includes a 250 acre lake, one of the largest privately owned lakes in the Poconos having an elevation of nearly 1800 feet above sea level.

A four room summer home, containing 360 square feet of living space with a full masonry foundation is being offered at $4995 and home sites from $530 per lot, minimum of 3 to a purchaser to insure privacy and elbow room.

This new project is located off Route 940 in Pocono Lake and scores of Arrowhead Lake directional signs will enable visitors to reach the property for inspection.

Mr. Robins, the former owner, built the beautiful lodge on the lake front which was used by him for the entertainment of friends and business associates and contains 14 bedrooms and 8 baths and a richly furnished 60' x 60' lounge together with a huge majestic stone fireplace. Lining the walls of the lodge are dozens of Deer Heads and Antlers shot by former guests nearby where deer and grouse hunting is plentiful. The lodge includes a fully equipped kitchen and a spacious dining room together with a 4 room apartment for the caretakers.

The lodge is now being used as an administration building and will house the executive and sales force of The All American Realty Co., Inc., for the development of Arrowhead Lake and other Pocono projects.

They transferred their operations to the Poconos about two years ago and developed Birchwood Lakes at Dingmans Ferry where land sales have reached over one million dollars and where some 100 homes are completed or under construction.

Buck Hill Falls Inn Builds Wing

The new 80-bedroom addition at The Inn at Buck Hill Falls has been completed, the new lounge was used extensively during the extremely busy spring convention season and the new 160-seat dining room was placed in operation June 1, completing the current construction program.

The Inn now has 350 bedrooms, making it the largest year-round resort hotel in Pennsylvania. Much work is in progress at the present time to continue the beautification of the grounds. A general refurbishing job has been completed immediately below the falls, which has added materially to one of the Poconos most scenic beauty spots which is annually visited by thousands of people.

The golf course continues under the capable management of Harry Drennan, who during the winter, is in charge of Buck Hill's "Family

Guy Burkholder is again in charge of the riding stables, ably assisted by Miss Nancy Peterson. Burkholder's famous stable is in residence at Hollins College, Hollins, Virginia, during the winter.

Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Evans will return for their third year as Directors of the Buck Hill Camp Club.

At the last annual meeting Clifford Gillam was again elected president of the Buck Hill Falls Company with Richard Edgerton continuing as executive vice president and general manager.

York, Pennsylvania, was the first town west of the Susquehanna River. Laid out in 1741, it was named for York, England.

Miniature Schnauzers At Jonaire

MOUNT POCONO — Jonaire Kennels, three miles north of Mt. Pocono on Rt. 611, is the home of champion miniature Schnauzers. The office walls of John and Clair Specht, owners and operators, are covered with proof of their dogs' championships.

Miniature Schnauzers are the last word in dogdom. They do not shed hair, there is no doggy odor, they are one of the world's best watchdogs, they are wonderful companions and good travelers.

The Spechts said that a miniature Schnauzer is an intelligent dog, with a personality of its own. They are not like any other kind of dog. Breeding Schnauzers since 1943, the Spechts invite you to stop in at their kennels and see the many beautiful dogs.

'They're Bitin' In Saylor's Lake

SAYLORSBURG — If you have ever dreamed of a "fisherman's paradise", a place where you could keep the entire family happy while vacationing?

Well, if you have then look no more. Saylor's Lake in Saylorsburg is the spot for you.

The lake is stocked with bass and trout and there is no state fishing license required when you want to "get a line wet".

Also, available are boats for hire. Just this year 25 new boats were put into service. This adds to the

For the non-fisherman, meaning the wife and perhaps the children, there is plenty of space on the sandy beach to "take in the sun" or just swim.

The children have a play area on the beach which includes swings, merry-go-round, see-saw and sliding boards.

The small sliding board permits the children to glide down the slippery steel, slide right into the lake. At this point the water is one foot deep.

Best of all, you'll find hotels and motels nearby, and if you wish there are some cottages around the lake that can be rented by the week, month or season.

Pocono Climate Cool And Dry

The climate of the Poconos, checked regularly for Pocono Mountain Vacation Bureau by weather officials, is refreshing mountain air that will bring vigor, health and enjoyment to the vacationist.

Averaging 80 per cent clear weather during the summer, nights are delightfully cool for sleeping and temperate sunny days are the rule.

Official United States weather reports show that the Poconos possess the driest air east of the Rockies and enjoy the coolest summer climate south of Maine.

Sightseeing Musts In Poconos

The scenic beauty of the Poconos is legendary with generations of vacationers! Encompassing some 1,500 square miles of mountains, lakes, streams and woodlands—it's possible here to present only a partial list of sightseeing musts.

Hundreds of beautiful waterfalls were produced through centuries of glacial action in the Pocono region. Among the more spectacular is Dingmans Falls, located at the eastern gateway of the Poconos, off Route 209. No climbing is necessary to view these falls in their wilderness setting. Near the town of Bushkill are Winona 5 Falls, with their legend of the Indian princess maid Winona, and Bushkill Falls, with its 100 foot drop, the highest single fall in Pennsylvania. To the west, in the center of the Poconos is Buck Hill Falls, where three falls drop over 200 feet into a primeval ravine.

Travelers and photographers alike will be rewarded by driving up Big Pocono Mountain—elevation 2,131 feet—or Pocono Knob (near the town of Mt. Pocono) from either of which on a clear day one may see 50 to 60 miles in all directions over the Poconos into New Jersey and New York states.

Sullivan Drive, named in honor of General Sullivan who led his forces through the rugged wilderness to quell an Indian uprising, extends from Route 940, at Pocono Pines to Tannersville and presents sweeping views of Big Pocono Mountain, and the Camelback ski area as well as the Delaware Water Gap.

Other points of interest; Cranberry Bog Preserve, at Tannersville dates back to the great glaciers. A "still living" geographical wonder, plant life can be studied that existed thousands of years ago.

Coral Reef 3½ miles north of Stroudsburg, Route 191—this Devonian formation indicates the Poconos were once covered by the sea.

Delaware Water Gap, world famous scenic wonder, where the Delaware River has cut a tremendous gorge through the mountains. Points of interest are the "Indian Head" and natural caves.

Largest Basswood Tree in the U. S. A. according to the American Forestry Association — over 300 years old, located on Sullivan Trail.

Indian War Canoe, dating back to the early 1700's, was dug out of the mud in 1958, at Route 507 on Lake Wallenpaupack. Colonial Covered Bridge, at Swiftwater dating back to 1778—one of the last in regular use that is still intact.

Model of First Steam Locomotive, in U. S. A., the Stourbridge Lion—made for the 1899 New York World's Fair, at Honesdale.

Tour of Hydro-Electric Plant, Wilsonville Dam, Hawley.

Active Units Promote Poconos

STROUDSBURG — Not only are the Poconos spotted with hundreds of resorts, but there are three active resort associations to handle the inquiries of the visitors.

Largest of all, the Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau services all the Poconos. According to its credo, no particular area is favored. When the Poconos are promoted, the whole region is promoted.

The vacation bureau works with a budget of well over $100,000 per year, much of it given by the state for tourist promotion.

This year, the vacation bureau has produced a handsome brochure covering the highlights of mountain

The Times insert appeared in the April 23 edition, and reached millions of people.

Besides its brochure work, the vacation bureau takes many ads in newspapers strategically placed to reach the most vacationers.

In the future, according to John Calhoun, executive director of the bureau, TV spots and other types of advertising campaigns are planned.

The vacation bureau also handles thousands of inquiries annually from persons interested in choosing a resort in the Pocono Mountains. It has been designated the official Tourist Promotion Agency of Monroe County.

The two other resort associations and the Western Poconos Resort Assn.

Robert Ahnert, owner of the Fernwood in Bushkill, is the president of the Eastern Poconos Resort Assn.

He notes that the group is undertaking extensive sign work in the area, and intends to relocate its information booth at Marshalls Creek.

Also, Ahnert said, "We plan a directional sign with all places of interest, resorts, and land development on it."

He notes that road widening work is taking place in the eastern Poconos, and that there are new facilities, additions to present resorts, and some new owners.

Maps and envelopes are given to people who stop at the roadside information booth, he said.

Witold Tilwick owns the resort at Saylor's Lake. He is president of the Western Poconos Resort Assn.

"We have in mind becoming a vacation bureau which would embody Carbon County. We are going to incorporate and amalgamate with the Jim Thorpe Travel Agency and the Monroe County Travel Bureau — the resultant set-up will be similar to the Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau, only it would serve Carbon and the western part of Monroe," Tilwick said.

"This will naturally strengthen our position. The organization will take in membership up to, and including, Pocono Downs, the proposed race track in Carbon County.

"The group would then be recognized as the official Tourist Promotion Agency of Carbon County, and we would be eligible for state funds," Tilwick said.

People driving to the fair from many areas south and west of the Poconos go right through this area on their way to the fair.

Many promotions of the Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau are being angled toward fair-goers.

Lake Naomi Laurel Lures Visitors

The pink and white beauty of Mountain Laurel is bursting out all over the wooded mountain sides surrounding Lake Naomi at the top of the Poconos — right on time

Tegawitha Girls' Camp Boasts Lake

TOBYHANNA — Camp Tegawitha will open its 47th season this summer.

It is situated on a 900-acre tract atop the Poconos and boasts its own lake and recreation facilities.

Girls between the ages of six and 16 are welcomed to join the fun and activities. Girls are placed in age groups similar to their own, and the activities are built around the age groups.

The girls are housed in cabins set among the trees. Experienced counsellors provide guidance and channel the activities of the girls into useful and helpful directions.

Food is prepared in the big, airy, spotless kitchen and is served in the rustic dining room.

Clothing is standard — white shirts and navy blue shorts.

with the gala festivities which are scheduled for the entertainment of visitors this coming week throughout the area.

It's a good time now to visit this famous lake in the Poconos — a time to select a site in a peaceful setting in the new vacation home-site area which has just become available at this well-known resort center.

At Lake Naomi the accent is on fun and relaxation. Its 2½ miles of sparkling water offers unlimited pleasure in boating, sailing, fishing, swimming and sunning. The first scheduled sailboat racing of the season began on Memorial Day and a full schedule of week-end sailing regattas continues until mid-September.

The lake teems with bass and pickerel, and trout leap in the tumbling streams. This unspoiled woodland, with its lush and varied foliage, abounds with wildlife. Deer, pheasant, grouse, rabbits flourish in the 2,800 acres comprising the estate, which is located at Pocono Pines, Pa.

Secured as it is, Lake Naomi is convenient to all entertainment, sports and activities of the busy, fun-filled Poconos, and easily accessible from New York or Philadelphia.

Beechwood Highlights Comfort

TOBYHANNA — Blake's Beechwood is not too large but takes to heart the comfort of every guest, yet it is not too small to find congenial companionship.

Located half a mile from Tobyhanna State Park, guests of Blake's are furnished free transportation daily to the large sandy beach on the lake at the park.

The forests of the park offer splendid places for nature study, hiking and hunting in season.

On the grounds are croquet, ping-pong, and quoits. In the rumpus room at Blake's are pocket billiards and other indoor games.

One of the features held weekly at the resort is the outdoor picnic for the guests.

N'Foundland Playhouse Opens July 1

A talented company of 35 singers, dancers and actors are being brought to the Poconos for a ten week summer stock season by Anthony Carone, Joe Ella and Andrew Fredericks, New York Theatrical producers. This fresh new professional company will make it's home in Newfoundland, Pa., at the 400 seat completely refurbished Haubert Theatre which will be known as the Newfoundland Musical Theatre.

The 1964 season will open with Frank Loesser's musical fable of Broadway "Guys and Dolls" on July 1 with performances Wednesday through Friday at 8:30 and Saturday at 7:30 p.m. and 10:30 p.m.

The 10:30 Saturday show has signs of becoming the time of the week as reservations from theatre-goers who like to relax during dinner keep the Newfoundland Musical Theatre's phone (676-3890) buzzing.

Following this Broadway musical will be such diverse entertainments the "Pajama Game," "Gypsy," "Bye Bye Birdie," and the sparkling musical comedy hit "South Pacific."

A pre-Broadway tryout of Joey Sauter's new musical "Oh My Milly" will end the first gala season. Joey Sauter is the author of New York's newest musical hit "Cindy." Each of these musicals will run two weeks, and "Milly" for one.

The company, all of whom have extensive backgrounds on Broadway, TV and radio will be under the direction of Jerry Marshall. Gretchen MacLane will take the dancers through all the colorful choreography of these hit musicals. Douglas Finney will lead the singers through all 6 shows which have a total of some 75 hit songs.

Anthony Carone, producer of the company, was manager of the Astor Theatre on Broadway this past winter, and has produced two seasons of musical stock.

His various productions at the 2,307 seat opera house of the Brooklyn Academy of Music were, in the main, responsible for inspiring live theatre interest in Brooklyn.

The "Emperor's New Clothes" which he produced in association with the Children's Fantasy Theatre was hailed as the best 1962 Children's show in New York City by the Board of Education.

Teaming with Mr. Carone for this first musical season at Newfoundland is Joe Ella. Mr. Ella's credits include Pajama Game, Guys and Dolls, South Pacific and numerous other Broadway shows.

True Italian Flavor at Ugucioni's

MOUNTAINHOME — Located across from the entrance to the Pocono Playhouse in Mountainhome, Ugucioni's Restaurant caters to Fellini or Anderson, Italian and American.

It's a top spot in the Poconos for fine homemade Italian cooking, yet the American cuisine includes seafood, steaks, and chops.

Everything is home-made, and the dinners are some of the best Italian-American eating around.

Wine with your dinner? Ugucioni's has a cocktail lounge and a wine list to complement any dinner you may order.

For spaghetti, ravioli, lasagna, cacciatore, or any other Italian dish, try this haven of savory cooking.

Stop in for cocktails before the play, come back for dinner. Located in the very heart of the upper Pocono resort district, Ugucioni's has stocked up with the ingredients for the best meals.

We say the ingredients, because everything at this restaurant is home-made—except the wine.

Nan-Ro Cottages A Real Treat

CANADEISIS — The Nan - Ro Cottages in Canadensis make living in the Poconos a treat to remember.

There's a pond for fishing, open to the guests only.

The fully-equipped housekeeping cottages accommodate from two to eight people. Refrigeration, automatic hot water supply, bathrooms with stall shower, living rooms, and fireplaces are all features of the Nan-Ro's immaculate cottages.

Linens and blankets are supplied.

Canadensis is in the heart of the scenic part of the Poconos — the vacationer in that part of the area should stop to see the modern conveniences Nan-Ro has to offer.

White Cabin's Fine Facilities

SCIOTA — White Cabin Motel in Sciota is eight miles west of Stroudsburg along the McMichaels Creek on Business Rt. 209 at Sciota.

This area is known as the gateway to the Poconos; and is only a 15-minute ride to Stroudsburg.

The Motel features free television and swimming.

If the traveler stops at the motel, Charlie's Sea Food House and the Sciota Craft Shop are right next door.

McMichaels Creek meanders next to the motel and opens out into a pond near Rt. 209.

Called Keystone Back In 1784

"The earliest indication of Pennsylvania's being regarded as a Keystone State dates back to 1784. On the walls of the American Philosophical Society in Philadelphia hangs a 9" x 12" painting in water colors representing the thirteen American states in the form of a stone arch with Pennsylvania in the keystone position. This picture was presented in 1784 to Charles Thomas of Pennsylvania, then secretary of Congress, by the French Charge d'Affaires."—"Facts About Pennsylvania For Young Citizens, Comm. of Pa., Dept. of Public Instruction, Harrisburg, Pa.

Five Tours Covering The Poconos

By BOBBY WESTBROOK
Family Fare Editor

STROUDSBURG — The area isn't so large, the historic treasures not so old as those to be flooded by the Aswan dam on the Nile, but the proposed Tocks Island Dam on the Delaware is evoking the same sort of nostalgia for the old villages, the ancient Indian trails, and the peaceful valleys which would be under water.

The Delaware Valley tour suggested by Thomas Knepp in his handbook, "The Poconos" covers much of this area and its distance is just about right for that "Sunday drive" for residents and tourists alike.

The day of the Sunday drive which suffered a relapse in the bumper-to-bumper traffic of pre Short-way days is now having a comeback. The new super highways through the Poconos have an added bonus in giving the other roads back to the natives and to the tourists who are more anxious to enjoy the drive than to get someplace else in a hurry.

In his book, Knepp outlines five tours covering the Western, Central, Eastern and Northern Poconos, as well as the Delaware River Valley tour. The tours range in length from 107 miles to 58 miles, and all of them start in Stroudsburg.

1776 Birth

Stroudsburg, itself, was founded by Jacob Stroud in 1776. He built the Stroud Mansion House, still standing at the corner of Ninth and Main Streets in 1795, near the site of Fort Hamilton. It's doorway, wide center hall and deep window sills retain the colonial charm.

Each of its 12 rooms has a fireplace, and the Woman's Club of the Stroudsburgs and other clubs which use it as a meeting place are now deep in plans for restoration of both interior and exterior.

The first floor and basement houses the Monroe County Historical Museum and Library which are open by appointment during the summer months. The Mansion House would make a good starting place for the tour of the Delaware Valley for which Knepp has given specific directions:

"Drive south on US 611" the directions read. This means leaving Stroudsburg by the Seventh Street bridge and Foxtown Hill where motors used to steam up in bumper-to-bumper traffic, now largely deserted and used mainly to reach the Pocono Wild Animal Farm, or Delaware Water Gap.

"36 m. Delaware Water Gap exit.

"Just beyond the village intersection, there is a road to the left which leads past the Shawnee Presbyterian church, the original of which was built in 1752. In the rear walls of this church are embedded gravestones of some of the early settlers of the Poconos. The church is open to the public.

"A Pennsylvania Historical Marker calls attention to Nicholas DePul, first known settler in this region. He built a home on the right along the bank of the river in 1727.

"Continue up the river valley. There are numerous summer homes built along the river bank. The mountain to right is in New Jersey".

Also on the right is the innocent looking Tocks Island which is to be the site of the dam which will impound a 37-mile lake, and which will also flood all of the section which the tour describes from here to above Milford. This will include:

"9.9 m. Camp Miller on the right maintained by the Lutheran Ministerium of Pennsylvania.

"12.2 m. Ministerium camp.

"12.6 m. Pennsylvania Historical Marker concerning the oldest road in Monroe County.

"14.6 m. Junction with US 209. Turn right on East 209.

"16.3 m. Bushkill. The village has long been a vacation center. Bushkill means "little river" in Dutch.

"It is the site of Fort Hindshaw, and the oldest road north of the mountains was built following an ancient Indian trail from New England to the Susquehanna."

In 1964, Bushkill — facing the decision whether to relocate the whole village and if so where.

Knepp also suggests a side trip to Bushkill Falls 2 miles on the road to the left at the blinker. Bushkill Falls have the largest six-foot into a deep gorge. But don't count the side trips in your mileage.

Continuing up US 209, the traveler passes along the base of a series of ridges on the left with the flat bottomland fields of the river valley on the right.

"28.1 m. Dingmans Ferry. Here was located one of the earliest ferries across the Delaware. Andrew Dingman in 1750 built the flatboat he used as a ferry with his own hand axe. Dingman was one of the pioneer settlers".

Another suggested side trip is the George W. Childs State Park, left on the second black-top road. Childs Park is the smallest state park in the Poconos but boasts three waterfalls. Some of the walls of an old woolen mill, built in 1825, still stand. The sheep which were supposed to have supplied wool for the mill were eaten by wolves or died from eating sheep laurel and the wool had to be hauled by mule team from Philadelphia.

The park offers picnic tables, fireplaces and bathing in the natural pools below the falls. But back to the tour:

"36.4 m. Milford. This is the county seat of Pike County. Thomas Quick settled here about 1733.

For years the town has been a reading center, and was an important stopping place on early roads. Thomas Quick Jr., who killed 68 Indians lived here. Milford was the home of the late Gifford Pinchot, twice governor of Pennsylvania.

The Pinchot estate, Gray Towers was dedicated last year as the Pinchot Institute for training personnel and doing research for improvement of land conservation. The late president John F. Kennedy dedicated the institute in a memorable visit Sept. 24, 1963 two months before his assassination.

Another unusual feature at Milford is the large nesting of bank swallows along the shores of the Delaware River, where hundreds of swallows put on an aerial display as they pursue insects and then fly toward their nesting holes in a vertical clay bank.

"Turn right on US 6-US 209. This is one of the oldest roads in the Poconos; over it passed the early settlers from Connecticut who were going into the Pennsylvania Wilderness.

"43.0 m. Matamoras. This town reflects the influence of the New England people who settled here. A fort was built at this place in 1740 by one of the earliest Dutch settlers.

"The tower on the mountain top to the right is the High Point Monument in New Jersey's High Point State Park.

Music's Byword at Altieri's

STROUDSBURG — In these days of folk singers and banjo pickers — not to mention ukulele players, it's good to know that the Poconos has its own music center.

The shop is Altieri's Music Center at 308 Main St. in Stroudsburg. It's owned and operated by Danny Altieri, a professional musician and a member of the locally known musical family, the Altieris.

Being a musician, he carries some of the finest names in the music world: Gretsch Guild, Selmer clarinets, King trumpets, Seeburg electronic organs, Roger's Drums.

Mountains Magnet for Geologists

STROUDSBURG — Most visitors to the Poconos are content to enjoy the results of the geological convulsions which brought about the ancient land, one of the earliest land masses in North America. Enough for them the scenery, the air, the climate and the way the resorts in the Poconos have refined them.

However, even a beauty contestant, accustomed to be admired for her physical dimensions, may be flattered by an artist's appraisal of her good bone structure, and the Poconos may well simmer when geologists say that they have "the most fossiliferous Marcellus in the state."

Generations of college field trips have taken back fossils by the busloads, but they are still so common that the Historical Society used them for place cards at its meeting five years ago. As a matter of fact, new Interstate 80, blasting through a mother lode of fossils laid down 2,500 million years ago, literally bridges a gap on coral from what used to be an ancient inland sea.

Ancient Sea

The sea is one which at times opened from the St. Lawrence and at others from the Gulf of Mexico and boasts both tropical and arctic waters: mollusks, snails and the chambered nautilus. In Hartman's Cave, there have been found fossils of musk ox and caribou from the north, and on a lower level evidence of sloths and peccaries from palmer days.

Mountains once higher than the Alps, have weathered down. The Great Glaciers came, some of them almost a mile high, grinding their way through the area in the Fourth Ice Age. The last of the Great Glaciers, the Wisconsin Glacier, died in Monroe County 11,000 years ago.

Traces of their grinding passage can be seen in the "kettle hole" lakes, in the grooves on hard rock exposure near Bushkill, in the stria on the shale hillsides of Cherry Valley, the rounded hills or kams, formed of layers of pebbles from the melting glaciers in the middle of valleys.

Big Pocono An Island?

Big Pocono, or to use its formal name, Camelback Mountain, broods over the county like a benign Buddha. Its summit bears no glacial scratches and it may once have been an island in a sea of ice. Ironically, what the Great Glacier failed to do, modern man is doing. A complete bank of snow machines has been installed along its slope for the great new Camelback Ski Run.

The Delaware Water Gap itself, original geological wonder of the area and the first section to capitalize on the resort possibilities, as early as 1820 is still a subject of geological debate. Sweeping in a graceful curve from north to east, the river turns suddenly and cuts the Blue Ridge Range to its base and leaves its towering sides frowning down from an elevation which reaches 1,600 feet.

Early legends picture a lake in the level country north of the Water Gap. One mathematically-minded historian, writing in 1870, calculated that if the lake had suddenly broken through the mountain barrier, it would have released 8,451,600,000 cubic feet of water, sufficient to have drowned the whole township below it under five feet of water.

Opinions Vary

More modern geological opinion, however, holds that the Water Gap was not formed by a breakthrough but by a fault caused by the slippage of the earth's surface. Others contend with equal force that it was cut by the action of sand and gravel carried by the river. As evidence they cite the fact that the gorge has been getting deeper as the land itself has risen higher and higher.

Another outside geological phenomenon is Boulder Field at Hickory Run State Park. A veritable "lake of rocks," Boulder Field is considered by geologists as an excellent example of 'weathering in situ'. The rocks are all of the same kind, not carried in but formed of the bedrock of the region.

PEACEFUL DELAWARE—The quiet Delaware, ideal for canoe and motor boat excursions, moves slowly toward swifter water around the bend near the Delaware Water Gap. This photograph is taken from the mouth of Brodhead Creek.

The Arrowhead house at $4995 is custom-built and not a shell or a prefab. The living room is 12 x 24 including dining area and the kitchen is 12 x 8 1/4, together with two good sized bedrooms and a storage and utility room. The living room has panelling of Luan Mahogany and the kitchen includes knotty pine custom built cabinets. The exterior is finished with Hemlock plank siding.

Five Tours In Poconos Highlighted

Port Jervis

"Cross the Delaware to Port Jervis, N.Y.

43.5 m. Port Jervis. It has been a transportation center for many years. It was an important town on the Delaware and Hudson Canal that carried millions of tons of coal from Honesdale to the Hudson River. For more than 100 years it has been an Erie Railroad center.

"Continue on US 6 until you cross the Neversink River, then turn right on N.J. 521. The latter route parallels the river on the New Jersey side and is the present-day counterpart of the Old Mine Road which was built sometime in the 1600's by the Dutch.

"The Old Mine Road extended from Esopus (Kingston) on the Hudson to some copper mines across from Shawnee. For centuries an old Indian trail existed along this route, connecting the Hudson with the Susquehanna far to the west.

"52.4 m. Montague. Here some of the early settlers built the Dutch Reformed Church of the Minisink in 1773. Montague is not far from Millford across the river.

Choice

"59.4 m. You are across the river from Dingmans Ferry. Now you have to choose whether you want to return to Stroudsburg on the Pennsylvania side of the river or continue down the New Jersey side.

There are about two miles of unpaved road on the Jersey side. To go down the Jersey side, you will have to follow direction signs to towns.

"Continue on N.J. 521 for about ans, continue 9.5 m. through Wall-2.6 m. Just before entering the village of Layton turn right to Bev-pack Center to Flatbrookville. Turn left across the mountain on an unpaved road to Millbrook.

"75.7 m. Millbrook. The early Dutch settlers built a church here. The road from Millbrook to Delaware Water Gap is paved.

"87.7 m. Delaware Water Gap bridge. Drive under the bridge to the underpass then left again to Delaware Water Gap village.

Troopers Ready To Assist

Wherever you go here — or elsewhere in Pennsylvania — you will find State Police ready to give aid, or directions and information about recreational areas.

There are five State Police barracks in the Pocono Mountains region.

This organization, with its authorized overall strength of more than 2,200 men, is one of the oldest of its kind in America.

Included in their many duties is the pleasant one of helping visitors know and enjoy the Poconos.

Every Major Breed

Many of the top dog shows in the United States draw their entries from the Poconos. Kennels featuring virtually every major breed of dog can be found in the Pocono Mountains.

Business Booming

Business was booming in East Stroudsburg even in 1886. According to available history records during that year the borough had 23 or more businesses. Included in two furniture stores, a harness factory, a tannery, a brewery, a stove-foundry and machine shop, three hotels, two drug stores, two lumber yards.

Firemen Carnival

Firemen's carnivals, featured in practically every section of the county, provide some of the excitement of rides and wheels, in contrast to their bucolic setting. The VFW and the American Legion also run big carnivals each year with the big West End Fair in August at the climax for summer fanfare.

STROUD MANSION—This is one of the first houses built in Monroe County by Colonel Jacob Stroud, founder of Stroudsburg. It stands at the corner of Ninth and Main Streets and houses the Monroe County Historical Society Museum.

Early Colonial At Duckloe's

PORTLAND — Frederick Duckloe and Bros., Inc., operates a complete home furnishings center in this small Delaware River community.

Early Colonial replicas of all types are the specialty here, and the firm has a most unusual collection of home-spun fabrics.

Braid, hand-hooked, and plain and fancy wall-to-wall carpeting is also available as are such name brands in furniture as Simmons, Englander-Goodyear, and Tension Ease Airlon.

There is plenty of free parking available at the shop—Portland has no parking meters.

But the main attraction is the furniture hand-crafted by the Duckloe staff. Famous the world over, these fine pieces of colonial furniture are straight from the pages of the most fashionable magazines.

When the buyer purchases a Duckloe reproduction, he's getting the finest. Colonial reproductions have been made there since 1859. Production started with the great grandfather of the present owners.

Skill and tradition of fine furniture and cabinet work have been handed down through the generations to Norman and Frederick Duckloe, who take pride in their furniture. They are the great grandsons of the original craftsman, and keep the furniture at a quality level even the old woodworker would marvel at.

Of course, after purchasing your instrument here, you will want to learn how to play it—and at Sleep's, instruction by professionals is the watchword.

For any musical need, Sleep's has the goods and the service.

Mr. Philip Famous for Hair Styling

STROUDSBURG — Mr. Philip operates one of the most modern houses of hair styling in the Pocono Mountains.

It's the Malozi Salon at 729 Main St., in Stroudsburg. The salon is done in French Provincial decor with lavender walls, hanging chandeliers, and white gold rococo furniture. Every woman spending time in this salon will feel pampered when she leaves.

All kinds of hair stylings and hair care are offered to residents and vacationers in the Pocono Mountains.

Mr. Philip is well known in the area for his exquisite hair coloring.

Stroudsburg Home Of Lincoln's Sub

Stroudsburg was the home of J. Summerfield Staples who fought in President Lincoln's stead during the Civil War. Buried in Stroudsburg Cemetery, Staples' tombstone is inscribed:

"J. Summerfield Staples — a private of Co. C, 128 Reg. R. V., also as a substitute for Abraham Lincoln. Died Jan 11, 1886."

State Travel Unit Boosts Poconos

HARRISBURG—Robert R. Shoemaker, director of the state Travel Development Bureau, has listed the functions that his office provides for making the Poconos boom.

Working closely with the Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau, the state agency helps in the following ways, according to Shoemaker.

"The Pocono Mountain Vacation Bureau being an accredited Tourist Bureau is eligible for funds under the State's Matching Fund Program and last year received $17,470.00 as their share of these funds.

"Our new book, 'Discover the New Pennsylvania' which first appeared as an insert in the May 16th issue of the Saturday Evening Post features the Poconos on Page 37, 38, and 39. This project has been extremely well received and at the present rate we expect to exhaust our supply of 500,000 copies by the end of 1964.

"The Travel Development Bureau has held three Workshops within the past year. These workshops featured talks by many leading travel authorities, round table discussions, as well as the pinpointing of various problems. We are happy to say a contingent from the Poconos attended all these workshops and, we trust, benefited from them.

"Our Bureau publication (TPA Bulletin and Penn Rambles) from time to time feature stories on the Poconos. Both these publications have a large and enthusiastic following and 50,000 Penn Rambles are distributed bi-monthly.

"A complete assortment of literature on the Poconos is kept in the Bureau and is sent out promptly in reply to requests. Since the Poconos are one of Pennsylvania's major resort areas a large number of these requests are serviced daily," Shoemaker said.

Indians Burned Old Mission

The second house of worship in Monroe County was the old Dansbury Mission, of Moravian faith which was erected in 1744.

Located adjacent to the Dansbury Cemetery on Lower Main St., Stroudsburg, the land was donated by Daniel Brodhead, first land purchaser in the area.

The church was burned by Indians and never rebuilt. Later the Stroud family purchased the burial ground for a public cemetery. Interred there are eight soldiers of the American Revolution, including the borough's founder, Colonel Jacob Stroud.

The use of the term "Keystone State" came into use shortly after the Revolution and was commonly accepted soon after 1800.

EVERYBODY LOVES A LIFEGUARD—One of the most, if not the most, popular men of a water front staff is the lifeguard. Not only does he have the beautiful coat of tan, but he has the knowledge of all the lively spots at the resort.

These recent operations included two Sussex County projects totaling 1500 acres where homesite sales reached a total of over $5,000,000 in five years and where more than 400 summer homes were built.

The famous Liberty Bell was cracked while tolling for the death of Chief Justice John Marshall in 1835. Pennsylvania is one of four Commonwealths in the United States — Massachusetts, Kentucky and Virginia.

The Old Trooper's General Store located on Business Rt. 209 in Sciota, Pa. is just such a store.

The store takes its name from the former occupation of its owner, who is a retired state trooper. Bob Chaplin looks back on his chosen profession with fond memories but looks forward to accomplishing many of the things he had long dreamed of doing someday. He is, at present assembling a display of relics of various and sundry kinds.

On the walls, you'll see one of the finest examples of a Pennsylvania (Kentucky) Rifle, "Brown Bess" is also there, a Revolutionary War Musket.

He also treasures a real Civil War Battle Flag that once led men proudly into battle.

Other relics found in the homes of old, and many of the tools used by the hardy mountain and farm folk are there to be seen.

Near Larger Cities

The Pocono Mountains are located almost equidistant from the East's great metropolitan districts of New York and Philadelphia. Both are less than 90 miles from Stroudsburg.

Live Band at La Rendevous

If you're looking for a real "fun spot" for dancing and entertainment head for La Rendevous Inn located on old Rt. 209 West of Sciota, Pa.

"Jean" is your personable hostess and will make you feel at home. . . A live band and floor show is featured on Friday and Saturday evenings in the ball room.

Don't forget to say "hello" to Jean. . . she's the one with the ponytail.

York and Lancaster counties are two of the richest agricultural counties in the world.

Like The Poconos?
Why Not Buy Here

Many summer visitors to the Pocono Mountains fall in love with the area and come back year after year to enjoy another summer vacation of fun. Often after coming back again and again, they get the idea to have a summer cottage or home of their own.

For those of you who might be thinking in these terms, you'll find some of the most choice real estate is offered by Charles Kimmel of Kimmel Homes in Scotrun, Pa. The Kimmel Real Estate Developments at present, encompass some of the most beautiful land in the area. Their Scot-Hi Estates development, located near Scotrun, Pa. overlooks much of the scenic splendor of the Poconos including the well-known Camelback Ski Area.

Other lots are available in the Canadensis area and also Readers, both small villages in the Poconos.

First and foremost, however, at Kimmel Homes is the fact that he is a builder with 40 years of experience in all phases and types of home building. Wood, brick or stone Kimmel can turn out a home, cottage, motel etc. that you'll be proud to own. He has cottages and homes in varying stages of completion now being built on Cranberry Road near Bartonsville and at Pine Lodge off Rt. 209 near Brodheadsville. Kimmel Homes are authorized dealers for the well-known line of Inland Homes, available in split levels, ranch styles, Colonial, modern and finishing can be done to suit your particular tastes.

Italian-American
Menu at Landis

CRESO — For the 19th year Landis's Restaurant on Route 191 in Cresco is catering to Pocono vacationers.

Boasting an Italian-American cuisine, Landis's caters to those of discriminating taste.

Known for its congenial atmosphere — Landis's has separated the dining room from the cocktail lounge.

Air - conditioned throughout, the bartenders are expert in mixing any kind of drink.

Largest Borough

East Stroudsburg was formerly a part of Stroud Township.

With the completion of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad in 1855-56, the town's population grew rapidly. An independent borough was created in 1870.

Today it is the largest borough in the county, and is the seat of East Stroudsburg State College.

'Hearth' Swings with
'The Devils'

STROUDSBURG — One of the "swingingest" spots in the Poconos is the Charcoal Hearth on Route 611 two miles north of Stroudsburg.

Bob Weidner and the Devils, a rip-en-up combo provide plenty of music on Wednesday, Friday, and Saturday nights.

The food at the Hearth is delicious — ask any year-round resident.

For a spot that really will make you feel like getting up and dancing, try the Charcoal Hearth.

A favorite with the young and with the old, the Charcoal Hearth is a must for a swinging vacation.

The Devils started out three years ago as a rock 'n roll combo but now have matured so they can belt out a Beale or Brubeck number.

The group is under the direction of Bob Weidner, and includes Ed Hill, Dave Leister and Bob McNulty.

The Declaration of Rights of the Pennsylvania Constitution is very similar to the Bill of Rights of the United States Constitution in that it is a bill of "don'ts" for the General Assembly. It is a series of prohibitions of the enactment by the General Assembly of laws infringing on certain rights.

Lewis' Caters to Families

MOUNTAINHOME — For the vacationer in the Pocono Mountain who has brought his family with him there is always the question of looking for a good place to purchase food for the table.

If this is your problem, look no more, just get in your car and drive to Lewis' Super Market on Rt. 390 in Mountainhome. Here you find quality products, name brands and many household items needed on your vacation.

Here you will also find an "in-the-store bakery". It seems that a man's appetite is always at its best when he is on vacation, and what man doesn't like to get up in the morning and have a big basket full of biscuits served with the meal.

The bakery shop will also fill your needs for the special goods for birthdays, parties or a good old fashioned family banquet.

The market also has a fresh meat department with only the best in U. S. choice grade meats, and cut or trimmed just the way you like them.

Yes, Lewis' Super Market in Mountainhome is truly the ideal store to "get the groceries for the family while on vacation."

Pine Hill's Fine Views

MT. POCONO—It's not "on top of old smoky" but you'll find that Pine Hill Park in Mt. Pocono is one of the loveliest developments in the Pocono Mts. area.

Lovely in that it has the most magnificent views to be found in the Poconos, it is maintained by its owner and developer, Daniel E. Krynick. The Krynicks (Mr. and Mrs.) have a beautiful home of their own at Pine Hill Park and they strive hard to keep it a neat scenic section that anyone would be proud to live in. The changing seasons make the park a veritable winter wonderland, a scenic spring and summer haven of mountain laurel and rhododendron.

If you're looking for a homesite with a real view and a real future, visit Pine Hill Park.

Norway House -- A Modern Inn

STROUDSBURG — The Inns of yesterday were placed strategically along the path of travel to aid and comfort the weary traveler.

The Norway House Restaurant and Motel is a far cry from those Inns but they do give the weary traveler the finest food and lodging in these mountains.

Jack Chapman assisted by his wife is host to untold numbers over the year.

In their air conditioned dining room, you'll find the "World's Best Chicken," or perhaps you'd enjoy trying their original Smorgasbord, a wonderfully different way to dine, originated by the owner. Char-broiled steaks are featured and a full breakfast, luncheon and dinner menu is maintained for the enjoyment of guests.

Now, as to the lodging, modern motel units featuring radiant heat ceiling units provide gentle even heat on those cool Pocono evenings.

Wall to wall carpet, TV and the most modern bathroom facilities round out these tastefully decorated units.

Hillside's Convertible Pool Top

Nope, that's not a typographical error.

When it's chilly the top is closed. But when it's hot, like a convertible the top opens for old man sun to work.

Aside from the charming, informal lodge, Hillside boasts luxurious cottages and cabanas which offer the utmost in comfort — like private bath and television.

In the charming atmosphere of the new dining room, a select menu is offered and three home-cooked meals are served each day.

The friendly cocktail lounge also has an orchestra which plays for dancing or just plain listening.

Manitou Cottage Colony

Manitou Cottages is one of the really pleasant cottage colonies in the Poconos that host hundreds of families every year. They are located just off Rt. 611, about 3 miles north of Stroudsburg, Penna. ## How Keystone Got Its Name

"Various suggestions as to how the name, Keystone State originated include the following:

"1. That Pennsylvania occupied a central (key) position among the states when the Federal Constitution was adopted by the thirteen colonies.

"2. That by voting for the issuance of the Declaration of Independence, John Morton of Pennsylvania decided the issue for his

Co-Op Adds New Line

BRODHEADSVILLE—Nestled in the rich farmlands of the West End of Monroe County is the Monroe County Co-op Dairy, producers of the finest, richest milk and dairy products around.

It is a member of the Monroe County Milk Producers Co-operative Dairy Association, and has been serving dairy products to the area for years.

Gap Motor Court Offers Hospitality

Many a weary traveler has "dropped anchor" in the snug harbor of the Delaware Water Gap Motel and enjoyed fine hospitality. And the tradition will continue say Elsa and Steve Matos.

"When you visit the famous Delaware Water Gap, you're sure to get old fashioned, fine hospitality at the "Motor Court" Steve says.

The motor court is only 1 1/4 miles from the beach area. It has attractive cottages with ample parking space for cars, boats and trailers.

Restaurant facilities are located next to the Court.

Police Polite To Tourists

Police in Monroe County go out of their way every day to aid tourists. This could be from the issuing of a courtesy traffic ticket to calling a garageman to repair a flat tire.

Travis J. Seese, chief of East Stroudsburg Police, said all the patrolmen in the borough have been schooled to aid the tourist in every possible way.

"Our aim is to protect the lives and property of the residents in East Stroudsburg and to aid any and all people in any way that we can," he concluded.

John B. Tretheway, chief of police in Stroudsburg, said, "In this borough we try our best to aid the tourist as well as the local people.

"One of the methods employed by the department is to place a courtesy ticket on a vehicle that is parked overtime and it is known that the driver is a tourist. The ticket may also state that the driver used the incorrect coin in the parking meter, or that he is parked in a no parking area," he continued.

In concluding he added, "This ticket tells the driver that a violation has been committed. It is our hope that the driver will then, if he parks in the borough again, do the correct and lawful thing."

Chief of Police Robert Smith in Delaware Water Gap said that his greatest role in aiding passing tourists is to give them directions to the various camps, hotels, motels and resorts in the county.

Harry Campbell, chief of Barrett Township police added that directing tourists to the various places in the township constitutes his biggest effort.

State Police are stationed in three areas of the county. In Stroudsburg, near the corner of N. Ninth and Scott Sts.; in Mt. Pocono on the main street and in the west end of the county at Fern Ridge, near Blakeslee.

The term "Commonwealth" is of English derivation and implies a special devotion of the government to the "commonweal" or welfare of its citizens. Peculiarly enough, the State Seal of Pennsylvania does not use the term, but as a matter of accepted tradition it is the legal designation to be used in referring to the State.

The early common use of the term "Keystone State" may be attributed to the strategic geographical location of Pennsylvania in the original union dominated by the states of the Atlantic seaboard. The modern persistence of this designation for Pennsylvania is justified in view of the key position of Pennsylvania in the economic, social and political development of the United States.—The Pennsylvania manual.

Onawa Lodge Gets Heated Swim Pool

MOUNTAINHOME — Announcement has been received that Onawa Lodge, high in the heart of the Pocono Mountains here in this picturesque village, will feature a new heated outdoor swimming pool and a small natural pond in which the children can fish and boat right in the "backyard".

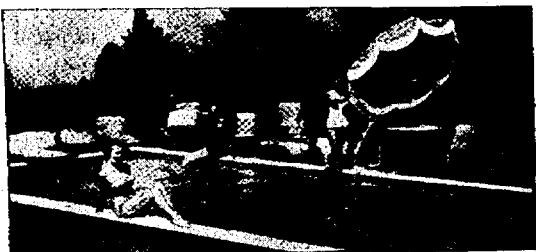

This year Onawa is celebrating its 38th season under the same management, having been operated the year 'round since 1926. The Annual Reunion for former guests and their friends was scheduled for the week-end of June 12, a feature of which was the Anniversary Party, including cocktails, dinner, and dance on Saturday night, during the Laurel Blossom Festival.

With the pool water now being heated, the new award-winning pool will be inviting to bathers in to late October since the warm Pocono sun beams down on the area throughout the day. Plans for further landscaping around the new pool are progressing and the portion of blacktop terrace has been painted a tile red. Additional furniture for relaxing in the sun has been purchased, and a telephone has been installed for the convenience of guests.

The natural pond which is always supplied with pure spring water is approximately four feet in depth and ideal for boating. The children are afforded free use of novel side-wheel paddle boats which have proved to be safe and sturdy. The pond has been stocked with native brook trout, blue gills, perch, and sun fish and contests using barbless hooks are conducted throughout the summer season. Poles with reels are provided.

Bedrooms, lounges, bar, and dining room have been refurbished and the usual "Cruise-Way" program of activities will be conducted by experienced counselors and directors. There are all ways for vacation fun by everyone — always at Onawa.

Blue Ribbons In Vogue At Astolat

EFFORT — The Astolat Shetland Sheepdog Kennels owned by Mrs. Constance Hubbard of Effort, were founded in 1934 in Millerton, N.Y. with the purchase of a champion Shetland Sheepdog from Mrs. William Dreer's Annassitt Kennels near Philadelphia.

When Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard moved to Effort in 1948 they brought with them the yearling champion Frigate's Emblem of Astolat, Emblem's mother, and a young female purchased in Sacramento, Calif. — later two more females were bought from North Carolina and Connecticut and this was the nucleus of the "Emblem" strain of Shetland Sheepdogs.

At present between 20 and 25 adults are regularly housed at Astolat, and of these there are at present, three champion males and four champion females. Since the beginning of the year the kennel has finished the championship of three dogs, and one of these, Champion Astolat Rock N' Roll has already been sold to a kennel on Long Island.

All but two dogs now in the kennel are descendants of the great champion "Emblem" who died in 1962 at the age of fifteen. When Emblem was retired from the show ring in 1955 his record of 101 best of breed awards was unsurpassed by any other Shetland in the country.

In addition to handling her own dogs in the ring, Mrs. Hubbard is a licensed judge of Collies and Shetland Sheepdogs, and in the last fifteen months has judged these two breeds in Oakland, Worth, Texas and Montreal, Canada.

Mrs. Hubbard's dogs have good dispositions and are photogenic, so are in demand as models. One dog she sold appeared three times on the children's T.V. show, Captain Kangaroo, and about two years ago one appeared in the Gaines-Burger ad.

In this May's issues of women's magazines, the appealing Shetland Sheepdog taking a bite of Burger-bits is none other than Mrs. Hubbard's newly crowned champion, Astolat Peggy of Faunbrook.
